WORLD MILITARY FORCE URGED

PLAN PUT UP TO NATION LEAGUE

International Army Proposed by Belgian Delegate

"NOT READY TO DISARM"

Revision of Covenant Sought by Dutch Minister

GENEVA—(By Associated Press)—An international military force with an international staff was proposed to the assembly of the league of nations Saturday by Senator Henri Lafontaine of the Belgian delegation.

Senator Lafontaine had somewhat startled the assembly by declaring that the world was not yet ready for disarmament.

"It is necessary to say frankly to the people," he said, "that the time for disarmament has not yet come."

"Before the world could disarm," he added, "entirely different ideas than those that prevailed before the war must be inculcated and applied."

He proposed that the armament and armies be comprised in an international force with an international staff "ready to be used in the cause of right," in such a case as arose from the present situation of Armenia.

COVENANT REVISION SOUGHT

GENEVA—(By Associated Press)—The first formal step toward the revision of the covenant of the league of nations was taken by the assembly of the league at Saturday's session. The Dutch minister of foreign affairs, H. A. Van Karnebeek, introduced a resolution for reconsideration of Article XVIII, having to do with the registration of treaties.

The resolution provides that the reconsideration be conducted either by the assembly itself or by a committee to make the meaning of the article clearer.

SEVERAL INTERPRETATIONS

Jonkheer Van Karnebeek, first called attention to this article of the covenant at Friday's session. He said there were several interpretations of the article which in brief provides that treaties between nations shall not be binding until they are registered with the league, and proposed that it be studied carefully with a view to its clarification.

THE TEXT OF THE ARTICLE XVIII

Every treaty or international engagement entered into hereafter by any member of the league shall be forthwith registered with the secretariat and shall as soon as possible be published by it. No such treaty or international engagement shall be binding until so registered.

HOPE FOR U. S. ENTRY

GENEVA—(By Associated Press, Assembly).—Hope that "without too much delay" a way will be found for the entry of the United States into the league of nations is given by the declaration of President-elect Harding, it was declared in an address to the assembly of the league Saturday by Tommaso Tittoni, former foreign minister of Italy.

THE LEAGUE

"The league is a league of nations until all the nations, without exception, are included in it."

During the debate

Newton W. Rowell, one of the Canadian delegation, pointed out to the assembly the danger involved in any attempt to interfere with the interior affairs of any country. Canada he said, would never consent to any such interference.

Mr. Rowell was referring to the demand that had been made by Senator Lafontaine of Belgium that raw materials, wherever found, is made available for the use of all nations. The question of raw materials Mr. Rowell held to be a question of interior affairs.

DAYS IN PROTEST

Object to Permits Issued to Wholesale Liquor Dealers

WASHINGTON—(By Associated Press)—Prohibition leaders Saturday protested to government enforcement officers against the reissuing of permits to wholesale liquor dealers to handle intoxicating liquors.

The claim was made by Wayne B. Wheeler, counsel for the Anti-Saloon League, who headed the delegation, that issuance of the permits to liquor dealers, not manufacturers or wholesale druggists, was not authorized by the Volstead act.

The permits, hundreds of which are outstanding, expire automatically December 1.

Mr. Wheeler insisted that the issuance of the permits was in direct conflict with the expressed purpose of the Volstead act to "prevent the use of intoxicating liquor as a beverage."

He declared that abuse of the privileges conveyed by the permits was common and that the consumption of liquor as a beverage was increased thereby.

Screen Star Would Be Just Old-Fashioned Mother

Gloria Swanson

LOS ANGELES, Cal.—This city, motion picture capital of the world, has an unexpected queen. Who from present appearance will never wear the diadem of popularity which a host of admirers would have thrust upon her.

The object of these unusual honors who is as jealous as if not as elaborate, guarded as was the famous hundred million dollar McLean baby, is just a wee mite of a girl. Of course she has nothing to say about coronations, but her mother has—so thereby hangs a tale.

When Mrs. Herbert K. Somborn, known to millions of "movie" fans as Gloria Swanson, became a mother on October 13 a legion of motion picture stars, near stars, actors, superlatives, property men, press agents and movie managers who have at some time been associated with her, joined in various little celebrations.

They decided that Gloria Swanson Somborn, heiress to the fame of her talented mother, should be appropriately honored. But they met with an unexpected move on the part of the parent when she was told of the shower of publicity that awaited the newcomer.

"My baby belongs to me, not to 'movie land,'" said Mrs. Somborn. "And she will not be the honored guest at parties, or posed for a battery of camera men, or carted around by press agents to satisfy the curiosity of an admiring public."

"I may appear selfish but I want my baby all to myself and husband. We are so happy these days that I think of nothing but what she means to us. Maybe I am old-fashioned—I hope I am—for a home and a motion picture career are two different things. While I may belong to a world of make believe, my little Gloria belongs only to her parents."

Mrs. Somborn made an enviable reputation with the Famous Players-Lasky corporation, following a varied experience with other firm concerns, considerable of which was in the comedy field.

Previous to her temporary retirement from films, several months ago she had been playing leads in Cecil B. De Mille's all star productions. Her work in "Don't Change Your Husband," "For Better, For Worse," "Male and Female," "Why Change Your Wife?" and "Something to Think About" increased her popularity.

She expects to be back with the Famous Players-Lasky corporation about January 1, but insists that her baby will claim every spare minute of her leisure time. Under a new long-term contract she is to be featured in a new De Mille series.

Mrs. Somborn's husband is also interested in motion pictures, his line being that of a promoting manager.

2 MEN STABBED 30 TIMES EACH

YOUNGSTOWN—(By Associated Press)—County officials Saturday were seeking evidence to establish their theory that a vendetta plot was responsible for the murder of two Italians, Joe Manguso and a man thought to be John Manguso his brother, whose mutilated bodies were found by a school boy on the Poland-New Middletown rd late Friday.

Each man had been stabbed exactly 30 times. On the bodies of each a circle had been drawn with a knife, within which there were numerous stab wounds, while the throat of each had been slashed and gashes covered the head and face.

In a pocket of one was found an envelope addressed to Angelo Grizzanti, 3625 Woodland, S. E. Suite 39, with a Cleveland post mark.

Manguso's automobile, with a bloody window sight on the front seat and bullet marks in the rear, was found near the scene. There were no bullet wounds in the bodies.

JAIL TERMS FOR PACKING CHIEFS

Chicago Judge Sentences Officials of Defunct Concern

WOMAN IS AMONG NUMBER

Eight Convicted of Using the Mails to Defraud

CHICAGO—Judge Evan A. Evans has passed sentence on the eight officials and directors of the bankrupt Consumers' Packing company. Two were sent to the federal penitentiary, one, a woman, was committed to the county jail, and the others let off with fines ranging from $10,000 to $1,000.

DEFENDANTS AND SENTENCES

The defendants and the sentences given them are:

Edward J. Ader, secretary and "brains" of the conspiracy to use the mails to defraud, seven years at Leavenworth, fined $10,000.

A. J. Messing, former rabbi and author of the sales literature, three and one-half years and a fine of $10,000.

Miss Gaudie Skolnik, 1844 Trumbull avenue, private secretary to Ader, six months in the county jail and a fine of $1,000.

Ell Pfaltzer, president and stock yards manager, fined $10,000.

Louis A. Davis, general sales manager, fined $1,500.

John A. Kantor, fiscal agent, fined $5,000.

Edwin H. Troest and Benjamin E. Turner, directors, each fined $3,000.

All those fined were to be confined in the county jail unless immediate payment was made.

HISTORY OF CASE

The Consumers' Packing company was started in February, 1918. In March, 1919, an involuntary petition in bankruptcy brought the affairs before Judge Landis. Following a vigorous investigation, all eight officials were held to the grand jury on charges of using the mails to defraud.

Charges were made that the company had sold $800,000 worth of stock and wasted $500,000 of the profits. The case was tried before Judge Evans by Benjamin P. Epstein, special government prosecutor.

"Among the worst crimes that are sweeping the country," said Judge Evans before he pronounced sentence, "are the stock selling schemes which are swamping the savings of hard working persons and the guileless, an inflicting punishment, it is necessary that the influence on society should be regarded rather than the punishment of individuals."

GROUPS THE DEFENDANTS

"I have grouped the defendants into two classes, the main cogs of the machine, and the minor cogs of the machine. The main cogs are Ader and Messing, who were in the first class. I had some difficulty in placing Miss Skolnik. I recalled, however, that she had acted as an agent to defraud justice."

The jurist was visibly moved when he passed on Messing, the former rabbi.

"Your testimony showed repeated falsehoods," he said to Ader, who will appeal for a new trial.

KILLED IN ROW OVER 70 CENTS

Columbus Grocer is Slain by Negro Customer, Charge

COLUMBUS—(By Associated Press)—Indicating that his plea will be self-defense, Harry Hopkins, 36, negro of Urbancrest, is being held by the police here awaiting the filing of formal charges as a result of his shooting to death Friday night Captain Courtwright, 36, a grocery keeper.

An argument over the payment of 70 cents for merchandise purchased by Hopkins in the Courtwright store preceded the shooting, it is said.

The negro, authorities say, admits shooting Courtwright, but states that the store proprietor threatened him with a knife and that he was forced to shoot to protect himself. The weapon with which the crime was committed, a shotgun, belonged to Hopkins. He had been hunting, it is said, and stopped at the Courtwright store on his way home.

RESTAURANT HAT AND COAT POLICY DOESN'T APPLY TO PENITENTIARY

NEWARK, N. J.—The restaurant policy of "watch your hat and overcoat" does not apply to the county penitentiary at Caldwell. The prison must either keep inmates "personal property or pay."

This was decided Saturday when the county board of freeholders directed Warden Hosp to reimburse two convicts whose terms expired and who threatened to sue the county if their overcoats, checked when they entered, were not either produced or paid for.

MORTGAGED FOR $50,000,000

Action is Brought by New York Trust Company

DENVER, Colo.—(By Associated Press)—The Denver and Rio Grande railroad, all its equipment and all its securities went on the auctioneer's block at noon Saturday to satisfy a mortgage given as security for payment of $50,000,000 bonds of the old Western Pacific railroad. Approximately $36,000,000 of the bonds and interest remain to be paid.

The foreclosure sale order was the result of action brought by the Equitable Trust Company of New York in behalf of the bondholders.

Indications were that the road would be purchased by the new Western Pacific Railroad Company, that corporation being one of several to post the necessary securities prior to the sale to permit them to bid for acquisition of the lines. William A. Jackson, special master, would not say who the other bidders are.

Efforts of the minority stockholders to have a postponement of the sale met with failure when the court of appeals at St. Paul Friday denied their petition.

Court confirmation of the sale will come up on December 18, that time being given the minority stockholders to appeal to the supreme court.

PASQUALE IS GIVEN LIFE TERM

Kidnap and Slayer of Coughlin Baby Sentenced

NORRISTOWN, Pa.—(By Associated Press)—August Pasquale, alias Pasquale "the Frank," was sentenced to life imprisonment Saturday morning by Judge Swartz, in Norristown court. Pasquale pleaded guilty at his trial to second degree murder and kidnaping for extortion.

He stole Blakely Coughlin, the 13-month-old baby of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Coughlin from their home near Norristown on June 2, last, and smothered the infant under his coat.

He was sentenced on the kidnaping charge and sentence was suspended on the second degree murder charge.

Pasquale will be confined in the eastern state penitentiary in Philadelphia.

Judge Swartz told Pasquale he was sorry he could not sentence him to death.

Pasquale, according to his own confession, took the baby from his crib at night entering the nursery thru a second story window by means of a ladder. He placed the child under his coat intending to demand a ransom, and after he had walked a half mile from the house he discovered he had accidentally smothered the baby. He threw it into the Schuylkill river.

BREWERIES TAKEN

Seizure of Two Cincinnati Concerns is Ordered

CINCINNATI—(By Associated Press)—Nicholas W. McGrath, collector of internal revenue, has received instructions from Washington to seize two Cincinnati breweries for alleged violation of the federal prohibition act, and announced that he would take possession of the properties of the two concerns Saturday.

The two breweries are the Jackson and the Harcourt, both of which have been under guard since Thursday when prohibition agents and internal revenue deputies took samples of beer from all breweries in the city and from more than a hundred saloons.

A third brewery is also mentioned as being amenable to seizure of its property because of alleged violation of the prohibition act, which prohibits the manufacture of beer containing alcohol in excess of one half of one per cent.

In addition, it is reported that a number of saloons will be seized by the federal government under the prohibition law.

All But One of Two Families Wiped Out as Flames Destroy Five Story Apartment House in New York—Blaze Starts in Baby Carriage

Women and Children Huddle on Platforms in Mid-Air Until Carried to Safety—Thrilling Rescues of the Helpless are Made

NEW YORK—(By Associated Press)—Nine persons constituting every member but one of two entire families, lost their lives here early Saturday in a fire which destroyed a five story apartment house at 307 W. 146th-st.

Fourteen other families escaped or were rescued by firemen.

Originating, fire authorities say, in a baby carriage on the first floor of the brick structure, the fire swept upward thru open stairways, cutting off escape thru the halls.

Nearly a hundred men, women and children clad in night clothes, swarmed to the fire escapes, some making their way to the ground, while others huddled terror-stricken on platforms in mid-air until carried to safety.

LIST OF DEAD

All the dead were found on the fifth and top floor after the flames had been controlled. They were Raphael Gabbia, his wife, Anna, and their four children, Carmela, Frank, Lena and Jennie, who ranged in years from seven down to one and one-half. Mrs. Ada Frank, Mrs. Bertha Reynolds, her sister, and Ruth Reynolds, a girl of sixteen.

NARROW ESCAPES

Charles Frank, overcome by smoke, fainted over a window sill and was dragged to safety and revived by a man who ranched out from an adjoining building and drew him across the narrow open space.

Mrs. Bertha Schofield, living on the second floor, escaped with minor injuries.

Robert Walker, a neighborhood resident, climbed a fire escape before the arrival of firemen and carried to safety an infant which had been abandoned in its crib by a family living on the second floor.

One of the victims of the doomed building escaped over adjoining roof.

PREACHER MUST STAND TRIAL

Canadian Minister Charged With "Killing and Slaying"

WINDSOR, Ont.—(By Associated Press)—Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin, Methodist minister and former license inspector, was to be arraigned in police court, upon his arrival from Toronto Saturday on a charge of "killing and slaying" Beverly Trumble during a raid by prohibition officers on Trumble's inn two weeks ago.

Altho not formally under arrest, counsel for Rev. Spracklin had pledged his presence for arraignment, according to Crown Attorney John H. Rodd.

"Killing and slaying" is a blanket charge that may embrace either murder or manslaughter, according to evidence introduced at the preliminary hearing.

The decision to place Rev. Spracklin on trial, notwithstanding his ex-communication by a coroner's jury, automatically suspended him from the temperance enforcement forces, according to Mr. Rodd.

An outgrowth of the Trumble slaying was the appointment Friday of W. J. Lamin, of Stratford, Ont., as chief of the border license inspectors and provincial police officers in western Ontario.

NOT IN ROW, SAYS LLOYD-GEORGE

Britain and France Agree on Germany's Debt, He Asserts

PARIS—(By Associated Press)—Differences between Great Britain and France do not amount to a quarrel and the views of these two nations have in no way prejudiced the alliance which held them together during the war, said Premier Lloyd-George of Great Britain in an interview at London Friday with the Petit Parisien.

Mr. Lloyd-George declared that regarding preparations, England would stand "elbow to elbow" with France, but he insisted that the amount Germany will be called upon to pay should be fixed.

"I will tell you exactly what I think. It is very simple—make Germany pay all she can. Yes, but how much? I leave you to figure it. I say the amount should be fixed. Why do I say this? Is it to please Germany? Oh, who could think so?"

"I was a lawyer before entering politics and when I confronted a debtor I had two courses to choose, either to enforce strictly the rights of my client and sell the debtor's house and furniture at the risk of getting nothing or next to nothing, or saying to him:

"You owe so much. How much can you pay at once? How much in a year, or in ten years?" This latter method I found to be best and this I advise following in dealing with Germany."

Russian Soviet Declares Such Action Forced by Poles

LONDON—(By Associated Press)—The Russian soviet government declares in a wireless message from Moscow that it is compelled to carry the war into the neutral zone between Poland and Russia because of the attacks being made on the soviet forces by General Blakovich, in command of the Polish volunteer forces which refused to cease fighting when the Polish-Russian peace was made, says an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Berlin Saturday.

Reports from Warsaw adds the dispatch suggest that Poland is fearful of Russia's intentions as fifteen Russian divisions are concentrated on the Polish line.

BIG THEFT MYSTERY CLEARED UP

TEN ARRESTED IN MAIL ROBBERY

Puzzle to $3,500,000 Iowa Hold-up is Solved

PART OF MONEY RECOVERED

Confession is Made By One of the Prisoners

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa. — (By Associated Press) — Seven more arrests, one confession, the recovery of a large amount of money, all in ten dollar bills, and the discovery of a automobile Thursday night, resulted Friday in clearing up the mystery surrounding the $3,500,000 mail car robbery in the local yards Saturday night.

Two of the men, T. A. Daly and H. A. Reed, are white, the others are negroes. The money was recovered from a chicken house at the Daly home following the confession of Reed, who rooms at Daly's.

The total amount of money recovered was not announced by officials.

TEN UNDER ARREST

Ten persons in all are under arrest and will be given a hearing before United States Commissioner V. A. Byers Saturday.

The automobile, believed to have been used for carrying away the mail bags, was found Thursday night in a rented garage a few blocks from the scene of the robbery. The number on the engine had been tampered with.

Reed and Daly, believed by officials to be leaders of the gang, are each 45 years of age. Daly has been working at the Omaha Grain Exchange but Reed has been unemployed the last few weeks.

Reed confessed following his imprisonment in the case of Fred Poffenberger, a youth arrested several days ago. Reed was put thru a severe grilling and at length gave information which led to the arrest of Daly.

Federal officers announced Friday morning that the case had now been completed to all intents and purposes.

The bags of currency, gold and bonds, whose value has been given authoritatively as high as three and a half million dollars, were taken from a Chicago, Burlington and Quincy mail train last Saturday. They were bound from San Francisco in a sealed car to consignees in the east.

WOMAN'S STATEMENT
Mrs. Daly, wife of the man under arrest, officials say, made a statement that her husband was at home at the time of the robbery and that Poffenberger brought the money to their home early Sunday morning, wrapped in packages.

According to Mrs. Daly's statement she overheard the men say that they had burned the rest of the contents of the sacks. After counting the money over, the statement continues, they hid it in the chicken house where it was found Friday morning, officials say.

Cleveland Association Takes Action Against McGannon

CLEVELAND. — (By United Press) — Disbarment of Judge William McGannon, chief justice of the municipal courts and one of the central figures in the Joyce murder trial, was sought Friday by the Cleveland Bar Association. The grievance committee reviewed complaints against the judge and then voted to start disbarment proceedings.

In the meantime, the grand jury was busy engaged Friday with a number of witnesses in its efforts to solve the murder of Harold Kay. Prosecutor Baskin, said he would produce some new witnesses and would disprove much of the testimony offered at the trial of Joyce. Baskin believes the jury will find sufficient evidence to indict at least one person.

Judge McGannon said he had not thought of resigning from the bench. He said he welcomed the grand jury investigation and is satisfied it will set aside any innuendoes and false accusations that have sprung up.

ALLEGED ENEMY ARRESTED

Believed to Be Result of Election Day Encounter

GERMANTOWN, Md. — (By Associated Press) — James Bolton, a farmer whose home near here was dynamited early Thursday morning, died Thursday night, bringing the death list in the explosion to three. Mrs. Hattie Shibley, Bolton's housekeeper and whose two small children were killed instantly, is believed to be fatally injured. Vernon Thompson is being held in connection with the explosion.

Montgomery-co authorities said an investigation showed that Bolton and Thompson had been enemies of long standing and that their enemy eliminated in an encounter election day in which Thompson was shot in the neck by Bolton. Thompson recently left a hospital and police said his arrest was based on threats he is alleged to have made against Bolton.

Fifty pounds of dynamite taken from a Germantown hardware store is believed to have been used in the destruction of the Bolton home. The charge was placed against the side of the house next to Bolton's bedroom and the building was practically demolished.

Both Thompson and his wife, the authorities said, made conflicting statements as to his whereabouts during the night of the explosion.

780 ARE STRICKEN

Typhoid Fever Epidemic at Salem Continues to Grow

SALEM. — (By Associated Press) — Seven hundred and eighty persons were Friday suffering from typhoid fever in this little city of less than 10,000 people.

Four emergency hospitals established within the last few weeks were filled with patients and the situation according to R. A. Lamont, chairman of the citizens' relief committee, was said to be desperate.

"We have not yet reached the peak of the epidemic," said Mr. Lamont.

Several weeks ago the first case of typhoid appeared in Salem and was followed so quickly by others that alarm was felt. Local physicians traced the cause to the city water system. It was said, and the state health authorities were notified. The proper steps were taken to purify the water supply, but the number of cases continued to grow until Friday a total of 780 were reported. Eleven persons have died since the epidemic started.

Many of the victims are workmen employed in the town factories, and their families, and it was necessary to open emergency hospitals in order to give them proper medical attention.

"We have appealed to the national headquarters of the American Red Cross as well as to the Lake division," said Mr. Lamont.

KEYS TO GAS ARE TENDERED CITY

Curtin Tells Mayor he or Committee Have Full Access

ANSWERS PRINTED STORY

Says Threat to Turn Off Gas Was Never Made

Full access to all gas regulators stations was tendered the city of Lima and other cities served by the Lima Natural Gas Co. Friday morning by E. R. Curtin, president of the company, in a letter to Mayor F. A. Burkhardt. This offer was made, Curtin said, that the consumers may know the true facts concerning the low pressure and whether it is being shut down here.

Mayor Burkhardt did not say whether or not the offer will be accepted. This may be one of the things to come before council at its meeting Monday night, which has been called by the mayor.

In his letter Curtin also takes up the statements credited to an attorney for the Medina Gas & Fuel Co. in a morning newspaper that the Medina company did not shut down the pressure. Curtin's letter follows:

CURTIN'S LETTER
Hon. F. A. Burkhardt, Mayor,
Lima, Ohio.

Dear Sir:—
In an article in the morning Gazette the heading states that "Attorney Hinkle of Medina Corporation Counters Curtin's Statement." In the morning newspaper that the Medina company did not shut down the pressure. Curtin's letter follows:

It is true that last Tuesday morning employees in this office told people when they called up that the Medina Gas Co. had turned off the gas; the reason they did this was because we had been enjoying a very good supply of gas for some time prior to Tuesday morning, and the officials of the Medina Gas Co. had given us up to the letter dated October 13th stating that if this gas matter was not straightened up so that they would get more money for the gas, they would shut the gas off on November 15th. At the time this letter was received, a copy of same was given to the newspaper and a copy was also sent to you with my letter of October 16th. I am enclosing herewith another copy of this letter.

At no time in this gas controversy have I made a statement to the effect that we, The Lima Gas Co. would shut the gas off; I have always said that we would give the people of Lima and the other towns all the gas that could be delivered to us by the Medina Gas Co. I have said, however, that I felt if the Medina Gas Co. did not receive a satisfactory proposition, they would reduce the amount of gas which we would receive, and believe this is the fact at the present time.

Now for your information and the information of all other city officials, as well as the consumers of natural gas in Lima, Wapakoneta, St. Marys and Collins, I wish to say that we are perfectly willing to turn over to you persons present any appointed committee or any expert you wish to appoint, all the keys and give you full access to all of our gates, valves and regulators on our main line as well as distributing lines between Lima and Collins.

Hinkle, attorney for the Medina Gas & Fuel Co., lives in Mansfield, Ohio. The main compressor station or pumping station of the Medina Gas Co. is located at Wooster, Ohio. The main compressor station or pumping station of the Medina Gas Co. is located at Wooster, Ohio. The main compressor station or pumping station of the Medina Gas Co. is located at Wooster, Ohio.

Hinkle has nothing whatever to do with the operations of the Medina Gas & Fuel Co., and I hardly feel he is qualified to make the statement attributed to him.

Yours truly,
ENNETT R. CURTIN,
GAS COSTING 44 CENTS

Curtin said Hinkle informed the Lima delegation at Columbus Thursday that gas in the field is costing a thousand to produce; that the company felt an obligation to Lima and that this had been offered at 40 cents.

Hinkle said the books of the Medina company would be opened to representatives of the city in order that they might ascertain the conditions under which the company is operating. Hinkle said he was going to the Medina company to get into the proposition.

Curtin said Hinkle maintained that Lima is not entitled to the gas it has been receiving under the contract now existing between the two companies. He said the field covered in the contract has all been drilled and abandoned with the exception of four or five wells.

The matter of more gas for Lima was taken up Thursday with the Utilities Commission by Curtin and attorneys for the gas company. Notice was served on the Medina company that more gas would be expected by Lima and the commission announced it would take the matter up immediately.

HARDING TO PRINT PAPER AT SEA

Will Get Out Publication Enroute to Panama

ABOARD STEAMSHIP PARIS-MINA. — (By United Press) — Senator Harding, enroute to the canal zone for a vacation trip, tried to settle down Friday to the task of doing nothing—but he found it difficult. The wireless news reports which came in were so many and so wordy that he had to stop reading them. He said he was tired of the blue waters of the Gulf of Mexico. Harding strolled on the decks until quite a late hour Thursday night, puffing at his pipe.

A live turkey was one of the center of attraction. Crowds thronged to view the bird, which soon will make a meal for the president-elect and his party. One hundred ducks were put aboard ship just before sailing time, for the benefit of the Harding tender.

While Senator Harding will get out one or two souvenir editions of the Marion Star, there is a typesetting outfit on board and the plan is for the president-elect to do the whole job himself, typesetting and all.

The United Fruit steamship Panama left for the canal zone for Senator Harding and his staff. The ship is completely overhauled for Senator Harding and his staff. The ship is completely overhauled for Senator Harding and his staff. The ship is completely overhauled for Senator Harding and his staff.

Friendship relations with Mexico during the Harding administration were predicted by those close to the president-elect, during his stay on the Mexican border. Harding, they believe, will extend a helping hand to the Obregon administration, in the hope of putting the country on its feet industrially and politically.

Oregon, it can be said, will assume power in Mexico with the best wishes for the incoming administration in the northern side of the Rio Grande, other than such friendly assistance as may be desired by Mexico.

Senator Harding's position has already been made clear to Mexico, where it is generally understood that as long as American rights and interests are respected there will be nothing to fear. Senator Harding's view is understood to be that what Mexico needs is peace and an opportunity to develop her schools and good roads and build up her farms which have been neglected during the last decade of revolutionary disturbances.

Recognition of Obregon's government is expected from President Wilson soon after the inauguration November 30, but should it be withheld, there is little doubt that the Harding administration will grant it.

This position, it is emphasized, does not mean weakness on the part of the United States, nor indifference to American rights in Mexico. It means, Harding's close friends insist, merely a square deal and a fair chance for Mexico.

PROPERTY SWEEP AT PITTSBURG

Earth Mysteriously Moves Down Hillside on Penny Road

BURIES HOUSES AND TRACKS

Continues Despite Fight of Engineers for Two Weeks

PITTSBURGH, Pa. — (By Associated Press) — Damage estimated by engineers to vary from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000 will result from the great slide of earth and stone which for the past two weeks has been steadily moving down the hillside from Bigelow boulevard to the downtown passenger terminal of the Pennsylvania railroad here. Nine steam shovels are working day and night to move the earth as it reaches the railroad tracks and approximately five thousand tons are sent out on special trains every 24 hours.

The slide began when the city attempted to straighten a curve in the boulevard which follows the hillside, high above the railroad terminal and connects the business section of the city with the east end residence district.

PROPERTY BURIED
Some 200,000 cubic yards of earth had been cut from the hill and dumped into a ravine before the engineers discovered that the earth was moving steadily toward the railroad.

Piling driven into the hill failed to stop the movement, and within a day or two, a railroad yard building in the path of the slide was buried, later two main, and six tracks of less importance leading into the terminal, were lost in spite of the desperate efforts made by the engineers and large forces of workmen to avert the calamity.

The slide, which moves at the rate of about one foot an hour, has reached a point where it was necessary Friday for the railroad company to route all trains on the Monongahela division by way of the Fourteenth station, while suburban service to the east was converted thru the consolidation of certain trains.

EMERGENCY SCHEDULE
Railroad officials have prepared an emergency schedule by which three passenger trains over the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne and Chicago railroad and the Pan Handle railroad will be routed around the business center to the East Liberty station, four miles east of the downtown terminal.

Mayor E. V. Babcock, acting under instructions from the city council, Thursday obtained the services of Major General Goethals, builder of the Panama canal, who will come here Saturday from New York to advise with the city engineers on a plan to stop the slide.

Lima Woman, Wife of Navy Officer, Dies at Van Wert

Mrs. W. E. Lawhead, 34, wife of Lieutenant Commander Lawhead of the United States navy, died at the hospital in Van Wert, Thursday. She was a daughter of the late H. S. Smith, 730 W. High-st., Lima. Death was due to a complication of diseases.

Mrs. Lawhead was born in Pennsylvania. Until her marriage, she resided in Spencer, Ohio. The past six years while her husband was in the navy, she spent much of the time with her parents here. She returned last May from a stay with her husband in the Philippine Islands.

The government allowed Lawhead the privilege of remaining with his wife four weeks ago and he was with her when she came. After treatment at St. Rita's hospital, she was removed a couple of weeks ago to Lakeside hospital, Cleveland, and taken early this week to Van Wert hospital. The vessel on which Lawhead was stationed is now in Asiatic waters.

Howey, Springfield, formerly of Lima, to officiate. The body will be entombed in the mausoleum at Christy, near Spencer.

Besides her mother and sister, Mrs. Sherrick, Mrs. Lawhead is survived by two other sisters, Mrs. W. A. Frick, Bellefontaine, and Mrs. K. C. Hinn, Lansing, Mich.

FREED OF TRETY, GERMANY CLAIMS

No Longer Bound by Peace Pact, Berlin Asserts

GENEVA — (By United Press.) — Germany no longer considers herself bound by the clauses of the peace treaty, under which she surrendered her colonies.

This position was taken in an appeal Germany addressed to the league of nations.

The appeal protested against establishing mandates for former German colonies.

It is declared that the allies had not abided by the treaty which provided that mandates for the former German colonies were to be distributed by the league.

Germany states that she signed the peace treaty and the league covenant with the expectation of being admitted and thus being permitted to participate in the distribution of mandates over her colonies.

Since she has not been admitted to membership and had no part in the distribution of mandates, the appeal said, she therefore considered herself no longer bound by the treaty clauses affecting her colonies.

NOT PROVIDED FOR. The league covenant did not specifically provide for the distribution of mandates. Article 22 of the covenant, dealing with the subject of mandates, merely provided that they should be established. The article, after stating that this method of administration is deemed best for the colonies and territories of former enemy states, goes into the matter of the duties and powers of the mandates. Article 22 reads:

"To those colonies and territories, which as a consequence of the late war have caused to be under the society of the states which formerly governed them and which are inhabited by peoples not yet able to stand by themselves under the strenuous conditions of the modern world, there should be applied the principle that the well being and development of such peoples form a sacred trust of civilization and that securities for the performance of this trust should be embodied in this covenant."

"The best method of giving practical effect to this principle is that the tutelage of such peoples should be entrusted to the advanced nations who by reason of their resources, their experience or their geographical position, can best undertake this responsibility, and who are willing to accept it, and that this tutelage should be exercised by them as mandates on behalf of the league."

"The character of the mandate must differ according to the stage of development of the people, the geographical situation of the territory, its economic conditions and other similar circumstances."

This article touches on the duties of the mandates, directing that they shall prevent illicit traffic, building of fortifications and the like. It also provides the method of annually reporting to the league of nations.

In the peace treaty, proper Germany specifically surrendered all right and title to her colonies and all possessions outside the boundary line as determined in the treaty.

Article 118, section one, of part four of the treaty contained this renunciation. It read:

"Germany renounces in favor of the allied and associated powers all her rights and titles over her overseas possessions."

ONE CAT NET RESULT OF RABBIT HUNT BY OFFICER FRANK KINZER

A rabbit story that is a hard one to believe is being told Friday at police headquarters at the expense of Officer Frank Kinzer, who was hunting in the vicinity of Springfield Thursday.

Frank, they say, shot what he believed to be a rabbit. In his excitement he did not stop to examine it. It was the only thing he killed during the day, "he said."

When Frank arrived home he called his wife to the kitchen and when he pulled from his hunting coat the supposed rabbit, it was a striped cat filled with shot.

"A SLAVE OF VANITY"

Pauline Frederick, America's foremost emotional actress in one of her most dramatic vehicles of her whole career.

There are pictures and pictures but you make no mistake when you anticipate Pauline Frederick in "A Slave of Vanity" as one of the very best as yet produced. The story, or rather the play "Iris" from which such was adapted is from the pen of Sir Arthur Pinero, as a play achieving the very height of popularity. As a photo-drama with Pauline Frederick—aptly styled the "Goddess of Emotion" in the leading role, it takes rank among the very best productions of the screen.

It's a ripping story. A woman, accustomed to luxury all her life, suddenly thrown on her own resources. Facing poverty, she must choose between a rich suitor and the poor man she really loves. It is a tremendous struggle, with the issue in the balance and your imagination will supply the many interesting scenes and situations which come to the surface throughout the thread of the play. You'll see just how far a woman may go in the wrong direction and yet, through better sense, retrieve her soul and her reputation. You'll learn when is the wisest moment for a couple deeply in love to say "Goodbye." No question about it. You'll surely love this picture. Coming to the L. B. Sunday for four big days. Don't miss any circumstances fail to see it.

SALARIES OF EPISCOPAL CLERGYMEN INCREASED $1,000,000 DURING Year

NEW YORK — A $1,000,000 increase in salaries to ministers of the Protestant Episcopal church has been paid during the last year, an average of $250 to each clergyman of the denomination, Monell Sayre, secretary of the church pension fund, estimated here Friday.

Mr. Sayre's estimate was based on payments of assessments to the pension fund, which indicated at this time that assessments made his year will total $75,000 more than last.

The cost of this increase is attributed largely to the nation-wide campaign in the Episcopal church begun in the spring of 1919, calling for a living wage for all clergymen. Individual dioceses and parishes have paid the increase, Mr. Sayre said.

ANNUAL MEETING OF SHAWNEE COUNTRY CLUB TONIGHT AT LIMA CLUB

Shawnee Country Club will hold its annual meeting Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Lima club, for the purpose of electing three trustees to serve for a period of three years. The board is composed of nine trustees.

Such action was taken at a meeting of the club held on October 11, last. Trustees may reduce the price of membership certificates to members elected prior to September 1, 1921, to $50.

The annual report of the secretary will also be received. W. L. Farmer is president of the club. The club will also demand male members to pay $10 and women members $5 for use of the golf links. This applies to junior and student members, also.

Greens fees for guests of members or golfers who visit the club, if members of any other club, shall be $1 per day for guests. It has been ruled that this will not apply to visiting clubs playing a team match against members of the club.

As a photo-drama with Pauline Frederick—aptly styled the "Goddess of Emotion" in the leading role, it takes rank among the very best productions of the screen.

It's a ripping story. A woman, accustomed to luxury all her life, suddenly thrown on her own resources. Facing poverty, she must choose between a rich suitor and the poor man she really loves. It is a tremendous struggle, with the issue in the balance and your imagination will supply the many interesting scenes and situations which come to the surface throughout the thread of the play. You'll see just how far a woman may go in the wrong direction and yet, through better sense, retrieve her soul and her reputation. You'll learn when is the wisest moment for a couple deeply in love to say "Goodbye." No question about it. You'll surely love this picture. Coming to the L. B. Sunday for four big days. Don't miss any circumstances fail to see it.

STAGE PLAY AT HIGH SCHOOL

"Fanny and the Servant Problem" Proves Comedy Success

The comedy, "Fanny and the Servant Problem," was very cleverly presented by the Commercial classes of Central Hi Friday night at the high school auditorium before a large crowd.

The play was considered by many to be better than any shown at the school for several years. The story of the play was: Fanny, a music hall dancer, has married Vernon Wetherell, Lord Bantock of England. He has told her that he is a fellow countryman and artist. On arriving at his mansion she discovers who he is and that there are twenty-three servants in the house and they are all related to her.

Her trials with the servants were very amusing as they all tried to show her the proper method of doing everything. It was formerly on account of these servants that she had come on the stage. George Newton, Fanny's manager, has told Vernon Fanny's history from his own imagination.

Finally in a fit of anger Fanny discharges the whole group of servants but finally decides to remain as Lady Bantock if her uncle, the butler, will give his consent, which he gladly does.

The scene where the chorus girls, former friends of Fanny, visited her was especially successful. Marjorie Kohli, as Fanny, played the steller role to perfection with Omar Morgan as George Newton and Gaylord Bogardus as the uncle-brother, made hits with the audience.

This play was under the direction of Gertrude Korp and Lella Neff. Proceeds will be used to purchase typewriters.

Following is the cast: Fanny, Marjorie Kohli; Vernon, Albert Minsky; Martin Bennett, Gaylord Bogardus; Sassanah Bennett, Lella Neff; Jane Opal Gordon; Ernest, Donald Hodder; Honoria, Melba Harding; The Misses, Wehr, Erill, and Wright, Catherine Moore; Dr. Freeman, Isola Steele; George Newton, Omar Morgan; "Our Empire"—England, Jessie Miller; Scotland, Mabel Perrino; Ireland, Ruth Williams; Wales, Dorothy Powell; Canada, Zara McComb; Africa, Edith Albridge; Straits, Velma Dietler.

The music was furnished by the high school orchestra. J. T. Colner was the business manager of the play.

The perfect weather which has added to the pleasure of the voyage since the Parish left New Orleans Thursday continued today and most of the party donned the white apparel of the tropics when the steamer got into the balmy southern

CHARGE TRIO OF BOYS STOLE WEINER WURSTS

Without funds and anxious to a witness stand instead of attending school, three boys late Friday afternoon were arrested by police and later turned over to juvenile court.

From the Lima Packing House police say the trio of youngsters stole a quantity of weiners and were roasting them in a fire near the B. & O. tracks at the rear of the Packing Co. when arrested.

CREW BELIEVED DEAD

MUSKEGON, Mich. — While lake coast guards and officers of the Great Lakes naval training station were confident Saturday that search of the wreckage of the HS-2L would reveal the bodies of the three members of the crew, presumably lost when the plane was wrecked. A board washed ashore from the wreckage had clothing nailed to it, and this led searchers to believe that the bodies or a note might be found. The HS-2L was cast in a storm on Lake Michigan, while on a reconnaissance tour a week ago.

ALL SIGNS SEEM TO LOOK ALIKE TO HOUSE HUNTERS IN LIMA

Do you believe in signs? They were just two among the throng of Lima house hunters. They had traveled many miles of streets in their fruitless search. They had answered every "For Rent" sign they saw—but nothing suited.

Finally they ran across another place. The sign was in the window. They scrambled up the porch and were met by a kind lady who invited them in.

"Well take it," said one of the house seekers.

"It just suits to a tee," said the second.

"But there must be some mistake," said the kind lady.

They went out and re-read the sign. It read: "Gospel Mission."

NORMAL BOY WILL NOT BE CRIMINAL SAYS EXPERT

DETROIT, Mich. — Parents who are worried because their young sons get occasional bad deportment marks in school should cheer up. On the authority of Dr. W. J. Hickson, expert on insanity, feeble-mindedness, dementia praecox, emotional instability, paresis and other gloomy things, the normal boy will not turn out to be a criminal.

Also, the normal youth when he grows up will manage to get along in the world and will never sink to degradation, even tho his parents die before they can give him an education and leave him practically penniless to the care of orphan asylums, or heavy-handed gentlemen who drive him to work in his early youth.

"To give a child a normal mental and emotional equipment is better than to leave him the best education or great riches without normality," declares Dr. Hickson. He spoke at a luncheon Wednesday at the D. A. C. presided over by Judge Harry H. Keldan, and attended by social workers, club women men prominent in civic affairs and circuit judges.

NORMALITY PREVENTS CRIME

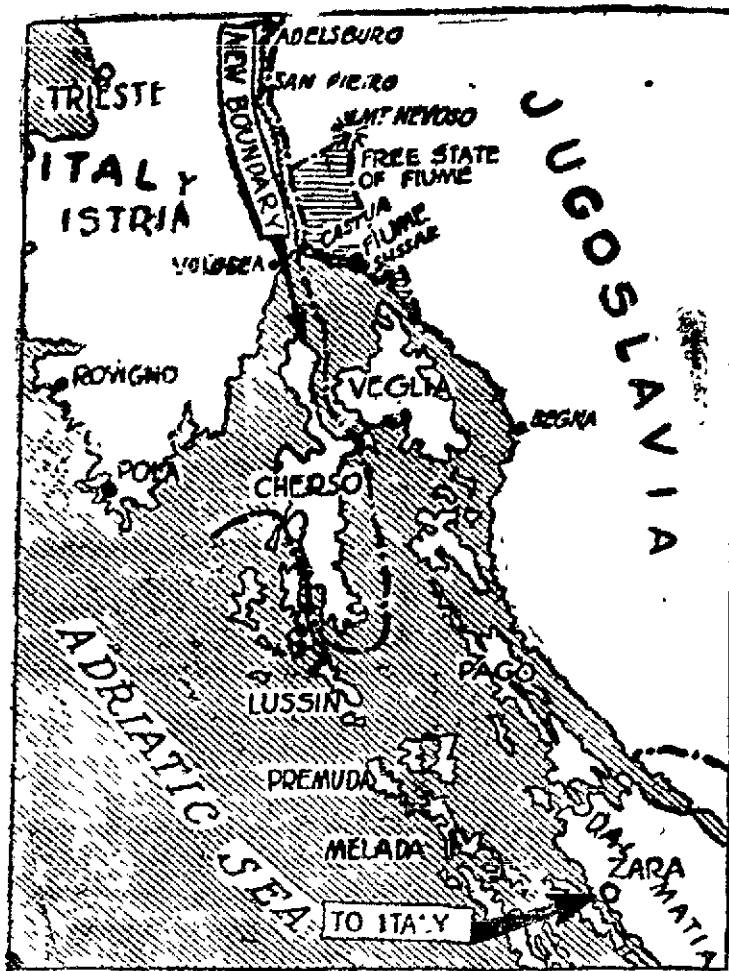

"One big popular misconception of crime is that anyone who becomes a criminal," Dr. Hickson continued. "We speak as if one of us tonight might don a mask arm himself with a pistol and go out and hold up and rob a few gentlemen on dark streets that is a mistaken idea. The normal man will not become a criminal any more than a feeble-minded person will become an intellectual giant. His affectivity will prevent it. The psychologists call affectivity, he called conscience by the layman. The normal man's reaction to crime is one of repulsion. He will not desert his standards.

"The boy or girl who shows a little wildness and some insubordination often worries his or her parents, who fear that he or she will become a criminal. But the boy and the girl, if normal, are safe from such a fate.

The boy may grow up penniless and without an education, he may never rise to affluence, but he will lead a normal, useful life. Even if misfortune strike him he will never fall to the depths of degradation that the abnormal person does. It does not matter what his environment may be, he will make his own environment.

"That is equally true of the sub-normal. When I first began my work in Chicago we tried removing sub-normals from their old environments, from neighborhoods where conditions did not seem to be favorable to them. Various societies moved such families into clean, respectable surroundings in good neighborhoods. But the families in a short while were in as bad shape as when they were in the old neighborhoods and they drifted back."

RESULT OF ADRIATIC SETTLEMENT

Arrows and dotted lines indicate main points in settlement.

The settlement of the Adriatic problem by Italy and Jugoslavia, agreed to at Rapallo recently, makes the following dispositions of territory.

"With the exception of Zara and Cherso, which go to Italy, Jugoslavia obtains Dalmatia, including Sebenico. The new frontier assigns Idria, Adelsburg, and San Pietro to Italy and runs thru Monte Nevoso to the Adriatic, which it touches between Volosra and Castua—the latter being given to Fiume. The Italian line of frontiers is to be contiguous with the independent state of Fiume. The railway from Fiume to San Pietro is assigned to Italy. The country south of Monte Nevoso is divided between Jugoslavia and Fiume, on a basis whereby the higher altitudes go to Jugoslavia and the lower altitudes to Fiume. Longatico and the adjacent valley."

MERGER PLANNED

Merchants Association May Be Made Part of C. C.

Consolidation of the Lima Merchants Association with the Lima Chamber of Commerce is being considered. Committees have been named to make an investigation into the matter and report on the advisability to the directors of the chamber. If acceptable to that organization, the plan will then be taken up with the merchants for their approval.

This matter has come up since the resignation of J. E. Morton, secretary to the merchants. He was talked of to handle the new arrangement but declined, announcing that he was leaving organization work to enter other business.

It is declared by many interested that the merchants association should be a bureau of the Chamber of Commerce and should function thru it. This plan is said to be worked very successfully in other cities. It is expected a report will be made in the near future.

The child was knocked down by an automobile, a wheel passing over her body. The Teddy bear was clasped in the child's arms and acted as a cushion between the wheel and the child's body.

SPRING WARMTH DISPELS COLD

Transition from Snow to Southern Sunshine for Lima

From northern Ohio snow and cold to Florida sunshine and warmth, has been the experience of Limaites within the past 24 hours.

Old Sol came out bright and early Friday morning and added to the already rising temperature of Thursday.

Many discarded overcoats. Shirt sleeves were and there were not an uncommon sight.

The cold snap which settled over the city last Tuesday seemed to be at an end late Friday.

Tuesday night's snow which had piled high on city streets was fast disappearing with the sun's warmth. Pedestrians and downtown shopkeepers dodged in and out along the main streets where water was dripping from the eaves.

Members of the street cleaning department, it was stated, were doing all within their power to clear the streets and crosswalks of snow and slush, which has made walking miserable for the past two days.

HUNTING LICENSES FOR 1920 OUTNUMBER 1919

Altho there are still seven days in November in which hunters may secure licenses, including the day before Thanksgiving, when the rush is greatest, 65 more licenses have been issued thus far in 1920 than were issued all last year.

"We thought last year a whopper," Robert L. Clon, deputy county clerk of courts said, "but this year is going to beat it."

Every day since near the clerk where hunting licenses are issued in the clerk's office is filled with applicants, anxious to secure permits.

GIRLS' WELFARE LEAGUE RELIEVE POOR FAMILIES

The Girls' Welfare League of Central High school held a business meeting Friday afternoon. Preparations were made for the usual Thanksgiving work which always included the supplying of two or more poor families with a fine Thanksgiving dinner. Miss Sarah Barr, former member of the league who is now doing social service work in Pittsburgh, gave an interesting talk.

WAGES WON'T BE CUT YET, EMPLOYEES TOLD

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—(By Associated Press)—"It is not likely that there will be a general reduction of wages for some time, but there surely will be later on—not, however, until the cost of living has been still further reduced," said a statement issued Friday to the employees of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company, the largest of independent steel companies in the Youngstown district, by James A. Campbell, president of the company.

Mr. Campbell said that there is every indication that building costs are going to be lower.

HOG CHOLERA IS UNDER CONTROL

Worst Outbreak in Years Has Spent Its Force, VanNatta Says

Control of probably the worst outbreak of hog cholera in years in Allen co. is now well in hand, according to L. S. Van Natta, county farm agent. It is believed the high-tide is past and there will be a less number of cases.

"The weather and the efforts of the men whose farms the disease is sweeping has had much to do with control of the disease and the reduction of cases," Van Natta said Friday.

Vaccine, the best possible way of handling the disease, has been resorted to in every section of the county. Reports in the office of the farm bureau show that every township in the county was infected with the disease, but few droves of hogs escaping its ravages.

The loss in northwestern Ohio will run into millions of dollars, farmers say.

QUARTETTE OF NEW PATIENTS AT HOSPITAL

Space required for proper care of insane patients at Lima State hospital is causing large numbers to be brought here from other institutions of the state.

Dr. C. H. Clark, superintendent of the institution, received word that Friday afternoon or Saturday he will receive four patients from the Cleveland hospital, to be under his care in the future.

Only a week ago 16 patients were sent here from Massillon.

THE POSITION OF FRANCE

There are careful and unprejudiced students of international affairs who profess to see in the resolute action of France to exclude Germany from the League of Nations, a positive deterrent to immediate world peace, comments The Dayton News. France, it will be recalled, has threatened to withdraw from the league assembly if Germany is admitted to membership, and, of course, withdrawing from the assembly is equivalent to withdrawal from the league proper.

Happily for everybody concerned Germany is not ready to seek admission, and so for a time there is little or no danger of action on the part of France. The feature about this whole business which makes urgent appeal to the imagination is the fact that any one country should assume an attitude of defiance to all the rest of the countries involved in this league. The league, if it is going to amount to anything at all, and it surely is destined to accomplish great good for the universe if properly handled, is a give and take proposition. No one nation could expect, nor had a right to expect, that membership in the league would guarantee to this one nation everything it wanted. It wouldn't have been and it will not be a genuine League of Nations if everybody got exactly what he wanted. Concessions and compromises have had to be made to gain the advanced position now held.

And, again, and with special reference to the present situation the leadership of the United States, disinterested in private quarrels of European nations as we always must be, would command great influence in just such misunderstandings as exist between Great Britain and France at this very moment. The question of indemnity and the matter of causing Germany to execute immediately all exactions of the treaty, are said to have caused a breach between these two world powers. America, without, of course, using a single soldier or a single warship, by its forceful statesmanship and tried diplomacy would soon put an end to disagreements and lift the league up and away from such sordid standards as this or that nation would seek to raise.

France, by complaining against the entrance of Germany, confesses at the same time a certain fear of Germany and a need for allied relationships such as are provided for in the league. As a matter of fact, and with a straight look into the situation it is not generally suspected that France would retire as she threatens to do. The league means as much if not more to her interests than to any other individual country. She could not afford to keep out of such a moral alliance. It is highly satisfactory to German statesmen to see this new evidence of timidity on the part of her ancient enemy.

SHOP EARLY GOOD ADVICE

The old familiar slogan, "Do Your Christmas Shopping Early," we again have with us. It has lost none of its importance or pep with passing time. Each and every twelvemonth, long about this time of the year, we hear it—often.

Despite the fact that the slogan hasn't a great amount of time in which to work, it forces its way into the hearts and minds of prospective Christmas shoppers and succeeds in coming off victorious. Lima stores have done their part. It is now up to the buyers.

Early buying is not only a relief to the purchaser, in escaping the inevitable crowds that through the stores in the last days and hours of the before Christmas season, but it also and likewise adds to the comfort and peace of mind of the hundreds of clerks who are required to stand back of their counters day and evening and assist buyers in "finding something" for the wife and kiddies, for the husband, or friend, or beau, or sweetheart.

A lot of us mortals never seem to think that clerks get tired. Those who stand on their feet for long hours at a time, know what it means. If each and every Christmas shopper could put himself or herself in the place of the man or woman back of the counter during the period when Christmas shopping is at its height, there would be more consideration given them by making purchases early.

And there's another side to the situation. Those who make their purchases several weeks before Christmas have the advantage of first choice of a wide variety of articles from which to choose. There's an old saying that "the early bird gets the worm." This might aptly be applied to Christmas buying. Those who shop early have better stocks to choose from and they are generally better satisfied.

By all means men and women ought to be about their buying by this time and not wait until December is well advanced. Those who have their Christmas purchases taken care of and laid away in the home, are to be commended.

WATER AND EPIDEMICS

PREVALENCE of typhoid fever at Salem, Ohio, traced to bad water, has been the occasion of health boards and commissioners all over the state sitting up and taking notice. Even where water is taken from sources of known purity, it is not amiss for precautions to be observed that will eliminate the possibility of any danger that may exist.

Lima draws its water supply from the Ottawa river mostly in time of heavy rains, when the stream is swollen to or near flood stage. Of course, it is not expected that the water taken from the river and stored in big reservoirs is pumped into people's homes in the state that it exists when taken.

For safety and purity, Lima's water supply is considered the equal of any to be found anywhere, even if it is not taken from deep drilled wells. The contaminating influences that render river water unfit for use direct are offset by the treatment accorded the supply at the filtration plant, before it is delivered for domestic use.

The Salem situation may induce a scare in the hearts and minds of people in this city and under different circumstances there would probably be some ground for it, but when it is considered that all water used from the city lines is subjected to filtration and chemical treatment there is little cause for fear.

As an additional safeguard, the purified and filtered water is frequently subjected to chemical tests, to ascertain if all parts of the filtration process are functioning properly. While there is always danger in water, no matter from what source taken or how treated for public consumption, the Lima situation is such that there is little occasion for fear. This city's water supply is carefully watched, frequently analyzed and the safety of the user conserved.

CONCERNING THE ITEM BY MAIRUS

Editor Lima News: I herewith reproduce a portion of an item from Columbus in your Sunday issue. "When Rev. George L. Davis, one of the eight negroes beaten for office by Republican voters, gave it out that he was about to shake the dust of Ohio from his feet, there were wagers that he might take thousands, you even scores of thousands of his race with him." * * * The negroes here will work for smaller wages than the whites, and thereby less the germ of economic fiction, as sure as two and two are four. The way the colored fellows ran in the election gives advance notice of how the public looks upon them."

Rev. George L. Davis is a clean cut and cultured gentleman, whose candidacy for office was positively not a result of his own aspiration or personal ambition, and the above coarse piece of vulgar burlesque, aimed particularly at a gentleman, and generally at the colored citizenship of Ohio, is rather illuminating. the calibre of the author is clearly discernable. The item also reveals an obtuse philosophy that is shamefully outworn by time, and should have been obsolete at least 50 years ago. It is high time we let go of the ideologies of the past, get abreast of the times, and face 1929. The colored citizen is an interwoven fabric of this nation in spite of the attempt to supplant him by the undermanned importation of European assassins, bomb-throwers and dynamiters. The wages that the colored man receives, as well as the kind of work he follows, is forced upon him by the industrial organization of certain elements in this country, in co-operation with foreign labor.

Perhaps it is true that "the way the colored fellows ran in the election

Don't Poison Baby.

Forty years ago almost every mother thought her child must have PAREGORIC or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a few drops too many will produce the SLEEP FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labelling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without your or your physician's knowledge of what it is composed. PUBLIC SALE

160 ACRES OF LAND
TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1920

At one o'clock p. m., I will sell my farm of 160 acres one mile north of Maplewood, in Jackson township, Shelby county, Ohio. This farm is located one mile from good grain market and one mile from school and church.

There is a good gravel road on the south and a good dirt road on the east. It is fertile land, and well ditched. I have put 3500 rods of tile on the farm, which has a splendid outlet, and never overflows. Splendid corn, heat and pasture land.

ELEVEN ROOM FRAME HOUSE with a large veranda on the east, south and west ends, all enclosed, one of the best cellars in the township full size of house, good woodchase, good hen house.

LARGE BARN

with room for 150 head of cattle and horses, now room enough for 200 tons of h. y., large hog house with cement floor, corn crib, watering trough with water in hog house. Crib for 2000 bushels of corn, 5 ton Fairbanks scales in building.

TWO NEVER FAILING DRILLED WELLS

Large cistern with pump in house. Good wind pump with 40-barrel steel tank. The farm is well fenced with Page fence. The house was remodelled and repainted two years ago. There are 8 acres of timber just west of the barn, which is a great protection against west winds.

This is one of the best farms in Jackson Township. An ideal farm for somebody.

TERMS—$3000.00 cash on day of sale, balance of first payment of one-fourth cash when deed is delivered, one-fourth in one year, one-fourth in two years and one-fourth in three years, notes to bear 6 per cent interest from day of sale and secured by mortgage on premises sold to secure deferred payments. Buyer may pay any amount above the first payment when deed is delivered.

I am making this sale on account of my health and age which will not permit me to look after the affairs of the farm.

THE POSITION OF FRANCE

THERE are careful and unprejudiced students of international affairs who profess to see in the resolute action of France to exclude Germany from the League of Nations, a positive deterrent to immediate world peace, comments The Dayton News. France, it will be recalled, has threatened to withdraw from the league assembly if Germany is admitted to membership, and, of course, withdrawing from the assembly is equivalent to withdrawal from the league proper.

Happily for everybody concerned Germany is not ready to seek admission, and so for a time there is little or no danger of action on the part of France. The feature about this whole business which makes urgent appeal to the imagination is the fact that any one country should assume an attitude of defiance to all the rest of the countries involved in this league. The league, if it is going to amount to anything at all, and it surely is destined to accomplish great good for the universe if properly handled, is a give and take proposition. No one nation could expect, nor had a right to expect, that membership in the league would guarantee to this one nation everything it wanted. It wouldn't have been and it will not be a genuine League of Nations if everybody got exactly what he wanted. Concessions and compromises have had to be made to gain the advanced position now held.

And, again, with special reference to the present situation the leadership of the United States, disinterested in private quarrels of European nations as we always must be, would command great influence in just such misunderstandings as exist between Great Britain and France at this very moment. The question of indemnity and the matter of causing Germany to execute immediately all exactions of the treaty, are said to have caused a breach between these two world powers. America, without, of course, using a single soldier or a single warship, by its forceful statesmanship and tried diplomacy would soon put an end to disagreements and lift the league up and away from such sordid standards as this or that nation would seek to raise.

France, by complaining against the entrance of Germany, confesses at the same time a certain fear of Germany and a need for allied relationships such as are provided for in the league. As a matter of fact, and with a straight look into the situation it is not generally suspected that France would retire, as she threatens to do. The league means as much if not more to her interests than to any other individual country. She could not afford to keep out of such a moral alliance. It is highly satisfactory to German statesmen to see this new evidence of timidity on the part of her ancient enemy.

SHOP EARLY GOOD ADVICE

THE old familiar slogan, "Do Your Christmas Shopping Early," we again have with us. It has lost none of its importance or pep with passing time. Each and every twelve-month, long about this time of the year, we hear it—often.

Despite the fact that the slogan hasn't a great amount of time in which to work, it forces its way into the hearts and minds of prospective Christmas shoppers and succeeds in coming off victorious. Lima stores have done their part. It is now up to the buyers.

Early buying is not only a relief to the purchaser, in escaping the inevitable crowds it through the stores in the last days and hours of the before Christmas season, but it also and likewise adds to the comfort and peace of mind of the hundreds of clerks who are required to stand back of their counters day and evening and assist buyers in "finding something" for the wife and kiddies, for the husband, or friend, or beau, or sweetheart.

A lot of us mortals never seem to think that clerks get tired. Those who stand on their feet for long hours at a time, know what it means. If each and every Christmas shopper could put himself or herself in the place of the man or woman back of the counter during the period when Christmas shopping is at its height, there would be more consideration given them by making purchases early.

And there's another side to the situation. Those who make their purchases several weeks before Christmas have the advantage of first choice of a wide variety of articles from which to choose. There's an old saying that "the early bird gets the worm." This might aptly be applied to Christmas buying. Those who shop early have better stocks to choose from and they are generally better satisfied.

By all means men and women ought to be about their buying by this time and not wait until December is well advanced. Those who have their Christmas purchases taken care of and laid away in the home, are to be commended.

WATER AND EPIDEMICS

PREVALENCE of typhoid fever at Salem, Ohio, traced to bad water, has been the occasion of health boards and commissioners all over the state sitting up and taking notice. Even where water is taken from sources of known purity, it is not amiss for precautions to be observed that will eliminate the possibility of any danger that may exist.

Lima draws its water supply from the Ottawa river mostly in time of heavy rains, when the stream is swollen to or near flood stage. Of course, it is not expected that the water taken from the river and stored in big reservoirs is pumped into people's homes in the state that it exists when taken.

For safety and purity, Lima's water supply is considered the equal of any to be found anywhere, even if it is not taken from deep drilled wells. The contaminating influences that render river water unfit for use direct are offset by the treatment accorded the supply at the filtration plant, before it is delivered for domestic use.

The Salem situation may induce a scare in the hearts and minds of people in this city and under different circumstances there would probably be some ground for it, but when it is considered that all water used from the city lines is subjected to filtration and chemical treatment there is little cause for fear.

As an additional safeguard, the purified and filtered water is frequently subjected to chemical tests, to ascertain if all parts of the filtration process are functioning properly. While there is always danger in water, no matter from what source taken or how treated for public consumption, the Lima situation is such that there is little occasion for fear. This city's water supply is carefully watched, frequently analyzed and the safety of the user conserved.

MISS LIMA: "It must be remarked that no syndicate of gamblers ever tried to corrupt the great American game of poker."

FROM OUR READERS

CONCERNING THE ITEM BY MARCUS

Editor Lima News:
I here reproduce a portion of an item from Columbus in your Sunday Issue. "When Rev. George L. Davis, one of the eight negroes beaten for office by Republican voters, gave it out that he was about to shake the dust of Ohio from his feet, there were wistful glances taken thousands, and scores of thousands of his race with him. * * * The negroes here will work for smaller wages than the whites, and therein lies the germ of economic ruin, as such as two and two are four. This way the colored fellows run in the election gives advance notice of how the public looks upon them."

Rev. George L. Davis is a clean cut and cultured gentleman, whose candidacy for office was positively not a result of his own aspiration or personal ambition, and the above coarse piece of vulgar burlesque, aimed particularly at a gentleman, and generally at the colored citizenship of Ohio, is rather illuminating. In it the culture of the author is clearly discernible. The item also reveals an obtuse philosophy that is shamefully outstrutted by Lima, and should have been deleted at least 20 years ago.

It is high time we let go of the phobias of the past, get a new set of the times, and face 1920. The colored citizen is an interwoven part of this nation in spite of the attempt to supplant him by the indiscriminate importation of European assassins, bomb-throwers and dynamiters. The wages that the colored man receives, as well as the kind of work he follows, is forced upon him by the industrial organization of certain elements in this country, in co-operation with foreign labor.

Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have PAREGORIC or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a FEW DROPS TOO MANY will produce the SLEEP FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labelling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which is poisonous." The taste and odor produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death. The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without your or your physician know of what it is composed. CASTORIA DOES NOT CONTAIN NARCOTICS, if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

Genulac Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

HOW "LOUNGE LIZARDS" ARE FOUND OUT

They were high school girls on the way home with their looking books under their arms.

They were talking about the dance.

"Going?" asked Milly.
"Sure. You?" replied Jane.
"Yes."
"With whom?"
"Jack. With whom are you going?"
"Billy."

"Do you know Bob Halton?" asked Milly, after a silence.

"Yes—oh, do you know him? Did he ever come to see you?"

"Well, he's called me up several times and he asked me to go to the dance with him on Saturday, and then he wrote a note about it."

"Oh, did he ask you?" He asked me, too!" Jane's manner was a bit chilled.

"Isn't that funny? I wonder which he asked first?"

"Well, you know," began Jane, "he's awfully queer and he has the worst line you ever heard."

And so they began one of those confidential little chats girls will indulge in.

And they found Bob Halton out. They learned he was one of those soulful lads who handed out a same stuff wherever he hung his hat.

And now Bob's going to be black-balled among Lima girls. Milly and Jane will see to it.

Which only goes to prove the contention Lima girls are not to be trifled with.

So, Mr. Lounge Lizard, when you start out on your evening of "loungeing"—remember they're going to find you out sooner or later.

SLAT-WING IS LATEST IN AIRPLANES

New Handley Page wing resembles a Venetian blind and trials show that it has much greater lifting power than one-piece wings.

LONDON—Greater loads and higher speeds than are now attained are claimed as the special features of the new aeroplane wing introduced by the Handley Page Company.

A demonstration of the new wing was recently given at the works of the aeroplane manufacturer. The new wing was fitted to a de Havilland machine, and it certainly indicated what it could do in rapid climbing and in slow landings.

The wing is composed of a number of slats overlapping each other, giving it much the appearance of a Venetian blind. The wing is thus converted into a what is called a multi-wing.

In order that the speed of the machine, when in full flight, shall not be affected, it is possible by means of an attached contrivance to close the slats and thus make them into one solid plane. The company's explanation of the new wing is as follows:

MUCH GREATER LIFT

"The special feature of the new wing is that it has a very much greater lift for every square foot of its surface compared with an ordinary wing. The construction consists in having slats right thru the plane, connecting the lower and upper surfaces, and to the unaltered it would appear that these slats, allowing the air to escape from the under to the upper surface of the wing, took away all the lift.

"Strange as it may seem the reverse is exactly the case. The slats in the wing virtually convert the single wing into a number of wings, and increase the lifting power of the wing two or three times as much as in the wing of ordinary construction.

"Supposing, for instance, that a machine today lifts a total weight of a ton and a half and has a wing area of 400 square feet. With this new wing it will be possible to lift the same weight with a wing area of only 200 to 300 square feet. Therefore, wings can be built more stoutly without increasing weight, and so the all-metal wing becomes much more possible commercially."

CANTON MAN DIES AT LIMA STATE HOSPITAL

The body of Howard B. Smith, 39, who died Friday afternoon at the Lima State Hospital, will be taken Saturday afternoon to Canton, his former home, by his father, L. W. Smith. Smith was flagman on the Pennsylvania railroad. He was brought to the Lima institution just a year ago Saturday.

Besides his parents, he leaves a widow, Mrs. Vera Smith, Canton. The body was removed to the Eckert mortuary after death.

Lima Is Ohio's Wonder City

OVER ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND PEOPLE live within 25 miles of The News press rooms, and they are going in and out of stores here every day. They are all thrifty Americans, the salt of the Earth.

The railroads and traction lines have been the greatest factors in Lima's growth and development, and every property owner and resident of the city owes a debt of gratitude to the men who built these roads and brought them to their present state of efficiency.

Associated Press reports show 75,000 out of employment in Cleveland; 25,000 in Akron; 20,000 in Toledo and 5,000 in Canton. But Lima is absorbing all its unemployed because our Locomotive, Cigar, Refinery and smaller industries continue to show gains. The good, honest workman still has and will have a job. The agitator and drone are moving on; which are you?

There is always a job in Lima for girls in their teens, married women and widows. When a man moves to Lima he knows his wife and daughters can find employment, if they want to work.

Lima, the Wonder City—The commercial progress of Lima is one of the marvels of the state. In common with other institutions, the growth of The Lima News is largely dependent on the growth of Lima. And the growth of Lima rests on the faith and vision of its citizens. Lima will contribute to the benefit of its citizens in proportion to their faith in its future.

SHORT SHAVINGS

"My dear, listen to this," exclaimed the elderly English lady to her husband on her first visit to the United States.

She held the hotel menu almost at arm's length and spoke in a tone of horror. "Baked Indian pudding! Can it be possible in a civilized country?"

Abe Vinegar, Turakoy at the city jail, told a hunting story today that rivals any yet heard about police headquarters.

Also said he was out hunting recently and when a flock of ducks flew in his path he leveled his double-barreled shot gun and pulled the trigger.

"Three of the ducks fell," Abe said, "but when I looked at my gun I found that I had forgotten to load it."

"Not one of the ducks had a shot in its body."

Chief Roush then told a story of how he shot a dead rabbit when hunting Monday.

"I saw it there in the snow," the chief said, "and thought it was alive."

"The boys didn't know the difference, and I'm not going to tell them either."

Oliver Herford, who writes amusing verses for a living, met a very soulful lady recently at a dinner.

"Have you no other ambition, Mr. Herford," she asked, "than to force people to degrade themselves by laughter?"

Yes, he had a whole of an ambition, and some day hoped to gratify it.

"Oh, Mr. Herford," she said, "please tell me about it."

"It is this," said Herford, "I have always wanted to throw an egg into an electric fan and some day I hope to do it."

"Tom," she said softly, as she looked trustingly into his eyes. "What is it, dearest?" he asked tenderly.

"Don't you think, Tom," she continued slowly, "that you had better throw away that cigar?"

"Do you object to smoke, my dear?" he asked.

"Oh, no, Tom; not at all," she replied quickly. "I rather like the smell of a good cigar, but—but—"

"But what, dearest?"

"You are so forgetful, Tom, and—and if you should forget to take the cigar out of your mouth you might—even a slight burn on my cheek, you know, would cause comment."

The cigar was thrown away and

EIGHT BREWERIES MAY BE SEIZED

Secret Raids Are Conducted at Cincinnati
HUNDRED SALOONS VISITED
4-Per Cent Beer Handled, Prohibition Agents Claim

CINCINNATI — (By Associated Press) — Important developments are expected to follow raids made Thursday by federal prohibition agents on eight Cincinnati breweries and approximately 100 saloons. The raids were conducted by 35 prohibition agents brought here from northern Ohio points by supervising federal prohibition agent Thomas E. Stone, of Baltimore, officer in charge of the Ohio-Maryland division.

As each place visited the agents took samples of beer and placed internal revenue seals on liquid goods not taken, warning the proprietors that no sales were to be made from the stocks until the samples which had been taken could be analyzed. It was said at the government building that analysis of samples of beer obtained by the prohibition agents and deputies from the office of the internal revenue collector have in a number of instances shown an alcoholic content in excess of the legal amount. It was intimated that in some cases the alcoholic content ran as high as 3 1/2 and 4 per cent.

Under the federal prohibition act, and also under the internal revenue laws, breweries which manufacture beer containing an alcoholic content of one half of one per cent or more are subject to seizure by the federal government. The intimation is that should samples from several of the breweries visited by federal agents disclose an illegal alcoholic content, there is prospect that the internal revenue department officials at Washington will direct the seizure of these plants.

Secrecy surrounded the movement of the prohibition agents Thursday and all efforts to obtain from supervising prohibition agent Stone details as to the raids and as to the government's future plans were without result.

NEGRO ELECTROCUTED FOR MURDER OF FARMER

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — Charles Cooper, Negro, convicted in Oklahoma of the murder of Otto Pickett, a white farmer, last May, was electrocuted here Friday.

LIMA MEN SEEK TO GAIN POSSESSION OF THEATRE IN ST. MARYS

Seeking to secure possession of the Grand opera house at St. Marys, the owners, J. E. DeVos and Elmer Firestone of Lima, by agent U. G. Replegle, brought suit in forcible entry and detention against Roma McCabe, who has been operating the theatre under lease.

The case was decided Thursday by Justice of the Peace W. H. Swift, ordering the owner be given immediate possession. McCabe's lease expired last July but he continued possession, paying at the rate of $60 a month part of the time, altho the contract called for $50.

The defense has given notice that the case will be carried to common pleas court on error, on the ground that the court failed to establish testimony the ownership of the theatre.

The list of "possibilities" for the cabinet to be named by Harding when he assumes the presidency, grows daily. Myron T. Herrick, former U. S. ambassador to France, is among the more recent additions to the list. His knowledge of international affairs puts him in line for the portfolio of secretary of state. Chairman Will Hays, of the Republican national committee, is talked of as a possibility for postmaster general or attorney general. Henry Wallace of Iowa, publisher of "Wallace's Farmer," is mentioned for secretary of agriculture. Herbert Hoover is suggested as secretary of the interior. Senator Miles Poindexter is "named" for secretary of the navy. Ex-Congressman Goode is talked of for secretary of the treasury.

GLEN ELLISON CONCERT PLEASES AND DELIGHTS LARGE LIMA AUDIENCE

The concert held at Memorial Hall Thursday evening was a unique affair. The guests, delighted at the prospect of hearing one Mr. Glen Ellison sing his famous Scotch songs, were surprised and spellbound when two Mr. Ellisons rendered the selections; and the piano selections were played by two Miss Alta Hills. This phenomenon was brought about by the means of a beautiful New Edison cabinet, which stood beside the artist on the stage and matched perfectly their performances, note for note. One of the most interesting novelties of the evening was given when Mr. Ellison sang a duet with his own voice. It was exactly as the two artists, with exactly the same tone-quality, the same timbre, the same expression, were singing together. The effect was unreal and a little weird, but marvelous.

The climax in the entertainment came when the room was darkened, during one of Mr. Ellison's selections and the listeners were positive that Mr. Ellison was singing alone. The lights flashed up to reveal the fact that Mr. Ellison was not there and that the New Edison had furnished the song alone.

This is the ONE Reason Why You Should See and Hear the Pathe Phonograph NOW While You Get $25 Worth of Pathe Records FREE

WE LAY this proposition down as the naked truth, that sooner or later every cultured and well-conditioned home will own a phonograph. The question is ---which one?

The purpose of this demonstration sale is to prove that the jeweled Pathe is the one to own.

The Pathe phonograph is superior, because it differs from other talking machines

It has invaluable features which other phonographs do not possess.

With the Pathe phonograph, you do not have to worry with needles. Needles scratch and wear out your records, to say nothing of the inconvenience in having to change them every time you change a record.

The Pathe plays with a Sapphire Ball. This Sapphire Ball is round and smooth, is ground under a microscope to exactly fit the grooves in the records and is indestructible.

You can play a thousand records with a single Sapphire Ball, without injury to the records or to the Sapphire Ball itself.

And the tone! You have never heard such marvelous, lif-like tone reproduction in a phonograph, unless you have listened to the genuine Pathe.

Yet the Pathe Costs no more than the ordinary Phonograph

And it is to more thoroughly demonstrate this fact, this marked superiority, that this sale is being held in our new Phonograph Department (3rd floor), that 100 genuine Pathe phonographs (Model 10), with their complement of $25 worth of FREE Pathe records, have been allotted to us for this purpose in Lima and that this same identical sale has been planned for a nation-wide demonstration which will embrace approximately 100 of the principal cities of the United States.

FEAR TROUBLE IN ARMING ULSTER

Means More Bloodshed in Ireland, is Belief

CARSON MEN ARE ORGANIZING

Being Formed Into Special Constables by Government

DUBLIN.—The great and probably the only argument against giving Ireland self-government is Britain's fear of civil war in Ireland. English statesmen say in the event of the British Army being withdrawn Ulster would immediately refuse to recognize the Nationalist Parliament in Dublin and immediately a reign of terror and civil war would commence if not in the whole of the country at least in the province of Ulster.

But civil war is being openly organized here already. Carson's followers in the whole of Ulster are being organized into special constables by the Government, arms are to be distributed and everyone enrolled will be equipped with a rifle, bayonet, revolver and truncheon. Further, the Government has guaranteed every one of them ten shillings a day, or two dollars, according to the present rate of exchange. While this one section is being armed in the North of Dublin, the authorities are imprisoning, shooting and deporting the Southern political section for doing exactly the same.

A Northern Nationalist told me that the outcome of this alarming state of events is that the Catholics who live in the northeast, corner about Belfast are clearing out of house and home. As soon as the new police force is on a firm footing a Nationalist's life won't be worth an hour's purchase.

ORANGEMEN L. MUNE
Already in the towns where sections of "specials" have been raised the Orangemen have become immune from punishment. In Lisburn the Magistrate sentenced a score of hoodlums to three months' imprisonment with hard labor for smashing, burning and looting Nationalist homes. The "specials" in a body refused to serve the warrants, and the guilty allowed to go unpunished. Furthermore, trials had to be withdrawn against other Carsonites on similar charges.

In the borders of Cavan and around Coothill the Carsonite policemen, I am told, are raising trouble for their Nationalist neighbors whose houses are fired into and their crops burned.

I have the very best authority for saying that the prominent officials at Dublin Castle tried to persuade the British Premier from adopting this course. In a very clearly worded telegram dispatched to him at Switzerland the Castle chiefs told Mr. Lloyd George that should the Unionists in Ulster be armed hundreds, if not thousands, of innocent Nationalists in the province who had no connection with any revolutionary organization would lose their lives. The Premier immediately cancelled his acknowledgment, and said there was no truth in the suggested formation.

PROTEST AGAINST IDEA
The Ulster leaders following these exchanges of messages dropped the project for a week or two and soon after Mr. Lloyd George's return to London accepted the idea.

The more thoughtful and far-seeing of Ulster Unionists have advised against the step, and all well-wishers of English rule in this country, such as the followers of Lord Midleton, have equally well-voiced their protests. The consequences may be as bad if not worse than my Ulster Nationalist informant says, but there are people who think that in organizing such a force the Government has cut a stick to beat itself. The order allowing the Carsonites to arm in 1913 is an instance of this occurring before.

ARGUED ISSUES OF CAMPAIGN OVER SOUP BOWLS

MUSKOGEE, Okla. — Seasoned old war horses in the political game who thought they "knew it all" can well take lessons in campaigning from Miss Alice Robertson the only woman to win a seat in the House of Representatives at the recent elections. Miss Robertson defeated her Democratic opponent in the second district in this state, and her campaign is still the talk of the district.

All her life Miss Robertson has been strongly opposed to woman suffrage, and when the suffrage campaign was on in Oklahoma she worked with might and main against it. But this proved no handicap to her during her campaign.

She accepted the nomination in a district normally Democratic and said she would make a campaign just to find out whether or not the people wanted a woman in office.

And she sure made some campaign. In her advertisements she combined news of table delicacies with quotations from the Bible and political arguments. She made a strong personal canvass and asked every voter she met to vote for her.

At meal times in her restaurant she would go from table to table and approach every male voter. To put forth her political arguments she would sit down at the table beside the "prospector" and talk over the campaign over a bowl of soup. At one dinner hour she had a record of fifteen bowls of soup, and it is said that the number would have been higher but for the fact that there were no core customers to eat soup with.

However, it must not be taken that Miss Robertson is a woman of eccentricities. For years she has been prominent in her district. She has been successful in many lines of endeavor and served under Roosevelt as postmistress of Muskogee.

"I am grateful that this opportunity has come to me," she said. "It is the chance to help others that I want. In the large sphere that I will enter I hope to be able to accomplish a few things that will help some of the people that I have seen suffer for years."

"I did not favor suffrage until it was forced upon us. Then I saw no reason to shirk my new duty. So as an active woman I determined to put my years of training to use. That is the reason for my entrance into public life in this way. For public life is not new to me. For the we have had suffrage only two years here. I served eight years as postmistress at Muskogee."

"The only reason for the entrance of women into politics is to insure clean government, to tell the truth and do justice to all, and to refrain from bitterness, after the example of the Great Exemplar 'who, when reviled, reviled them not.'"

"Women can do much in this direction. I hope to help as much as I can."

"I won't snivel. I know what I want. I know a little about politics. They won't pull the wool over my eyes."

VITAMON

"Thin" Is Expected to Return. Best Way to Avoid It Is to Have Your System Strong Enough to Throw It Off.

Draco, the Great Tonic, Builds Up the Entire System. Strengthens the Vital Organs and Fortifies You Against Disease.

In response to thousands of requests from physicians and laymen throughout the United States, Surgeon-General Rupert Blue, of the U. S. Public Health Service, has issued a bulletin in which he affirms that "probably" but by no means certainly, there will be a recurrence of the influenza epidemic this year.

Those who contracted influenza last year and who practice primary rules of health and sanitation can rest assured that the chances are well against their having influenza this year. Those who were healthy and strong enough last year to ward off the germ can rest content in the knowledge that what was possible once is possible twice, if they keep themselves in the same excellent good health. Good health, after all, is a better guarantee against disease than all other precautions, for a healthy body is, itself, able to ward off attacks by germs.

"I have gained ten pounds and my whole system is stronger today than in years past," declared Mr. J. J. Ziegensch, living at 448 E. Pearl St., Lima, O.

"Draco overcame the constipation, got my stomach in good condition, so that it digested what I ate and it nourished my body, thereby giving me strength and endurance. It roused my liver to full action and aided my kidneys to perform their duty of filtering the poisons from my blood. My rheumatism is better; the swelling in my joints all gone and I sleep sound every night. I advise every one to take Draco to build up their systems."

The secret of good health is in having the vital organs in first-class condition. Draco acts on these vital organs promptly and efficiently, giving new health, strength and powers to resist disease.

All good druggists now sell Draco, and it is highly recommended by Lima by Baldwin's Central Drug Store, corner Main and High Sts.

APPEAL IS MADE TO CITIZENS

Mayor Asks Homes be Opened to Visiting Older Boys

Due to the fact that citizens are not offering to open their homes as they should to house the 800 boys expected in Lima for three days, commencing next Friday, Mayor Burkhardt Friday issued the following appeal:

"On November 26th, 27th and 28th, 1920, there will be a State Older Boys Conference in the City of Lima under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. This is an annual event in Ohio and in past years other Ohio cities have vied with each other in showing hospitality to some 800 boys who come from all over the State. These boys will be addressed by speakers of nation reputation. These will be red letter days in the lives of the embryonic citizens. Let's be true to our slogan, 'Lima Leads' and give them a royal welcome."

"Reports indicate that only about half the required accommodations have thus far been tendered. Citizens are urged to come to the rescue. Open your homes to these boys of sterling worth. Call the Y. M. C. A. or Chamber of Commerce and enroll as volunteer hosts."

Over 50 Ohio cities will be represented.

FAMOUS CAFE IN JAPAN 'DRY'

Barroom is Closed During Sunday School Convention

SALOON BECOMES TEA ROOM

Whiskey and Other Strong Drink Barred for Ten Days

TOKIO.—The great desert of America has cast its shadow far across the Pacific Ocean. In the sacred land of old Japan, penetrating clear into the capital city of Nippon, in Tokio, there is a spot where the cocktail glass and the Kirin beer bottle are persona non grata.

But a scant few nights ago there were few places in Tokio where the wine glass and the whiskey soda were handled with such dexterity as in the barroom of the Imperial Theatre. The beautiful oak bar on the second floor of the handsome white brick building, said to be a copy of the Opera of Paris, was a place where the well known man about town in Tokio might be found most any night. Ak-san, the barkeep, had mixed drinks in America, he knew the knack of it and he boasted of his ability to please the taste of the keenest connoisseurs of Tokio's capital.

Of a sudden came the fire of the big convention hall, where 1,000 delegates to the World Sunday School Convention, many of them from dry America, were about to begin their meetings. Then came the hurry and scurry at the Imperial Theatre, in the domain of Ak-san, the barkeep. Cocktails, private stock for drinks in the right hand corner of the bar, whiskey punch—they all were hurried together in pretty wicker baskets. The bar was cleared of the alcoholic properties and a sign was painted which read "Tea, mineral water and cakes served here." No more Ak-san in high life left for a few days. His mixer duties for a time were over.

The Sunday school delegates came in hundreds. The beauties of the Imperial Theatre were commented upon, long talks were made in which the evils of drink came in for their share of attention. One noon a regular visitor at the theatre dropped in for noontime tiffin. "A whiskey and soda," he suggested to the waiter. It was the thrill of the whole town due to the boy-man whose duties had undergone a change and his life had entered into a quiet, peaceful, safe existence.

On October 16 one day after the convention crowds from America had gone, the temporary desert made in Tokio out of respect to the delegates to the Eighth Sunday School Convention was wet again. The crew of "miserers" headed by Ak-san returned, cleared away the empty mineral water bottles, the deserted tabletops and started life all over again.

MASTER OF KINLOOS, BARONESS' SON, TO WED VILLAGE SMITHY'S DAUGHTER

LONDON.—A romance which began fifteen years ago has just culminated in the announcing by the Master of Kinloos of his engagement to Miss Katherine Beatrice MacKenzie Jackman, daughter of a village blacksmith, who lives in the shadow of Stowe House, the ancestral seat of the Master of Kinloos.

English society has long since got over being shocked by sons of nobility marrying actresses and chorus girl beauties. But it is a unique event for the heir to one of the oldest baronies to find his fiancée in the home of a village blacksmith.

And this is what the Master of Kinloos has to say about it.

"In these days of democratic marriages I fail to see anything unusual in this, and it is to my mind merely the duty of others to wish us future happiness."

The Master of Kinloos has just passed his thirty-first birthday. His fiancée is twenty-eight. He was born in 1914 and was for some time the curate of St. Sepulchre, Northampton Stowe House and the thousands of acres surrounding it are to be sold, it is said.

When the barony dates from 1602, when the first holder, Sir Edward Bruce, was appointed by James I. on his accession to the throne Master of the Rolls for life.

The full name of the Master of Kinloos is Louis Chandos Francis Temple Morgan Greenville Baroness Kinloos, his mother, is the eldest daughter of the late Duke of Buckingham and Chandos, who died in 1889. She married in 1884 Maj. Louis Ferdinand Morgan Greenville. Her eldest son was Richard George Greenville, a lieutenant in the rifle brigade who, after being twice wounded, was killed early in 1914.

Stowe House, one of the most famous mansions of England, is stored with treasures of great historical interest. The future peeress has no desire to reside over this famous house, in whose state dining room royalty have been entertained. Queen Mary and Princess Mary, indeed, the latter in July of last year. King Edward was a frequent visitor and Queen Victoria was numbered among its loyal guests.

Miss Jackman, whose nickname is "Puss," is yearning to be the mistress of a small cottage and not of such an imposing mansion as Stowe House.

The Master of Kinloos has a very genteel manner. Recently he was in Canada.

BEALL CHOSEN AS LEAGUE HEAD

Factorymen Organize Industrial Fellowship Body

Lima's Industrial Fellowship League was a real, throbbing and breathing organization Friday.

Formed to bring employer and employee into closer touch with one another, it was completed at a round table meeting of representatives from every factory in Lima at Central High School Thursday night.

John W. Beall, of the Ohio Steel Foundry, was named president of the new, Lima league. Other officers elected were J. H. Copey, Lima Locomotive plant vice president, and H. E. Carr, Hartford company, secretary and treasurer.

Thursday night's meeting was presided over by R. W. Huff who had been temporary president of the organization.

The principal speaker of the evening was Robert J. Auer, secretary of Dorcas's the Industrial Fellowship League at Flint, Mich.

Wise talked along the same lines in which he addressed members of the chamber of commerce at their noon luncheon in the Elk's club Thursday.

He outlined the operation of the factory league. He pointed to the success of the Flint organization and predicted big things for the Lima factory workers' association.

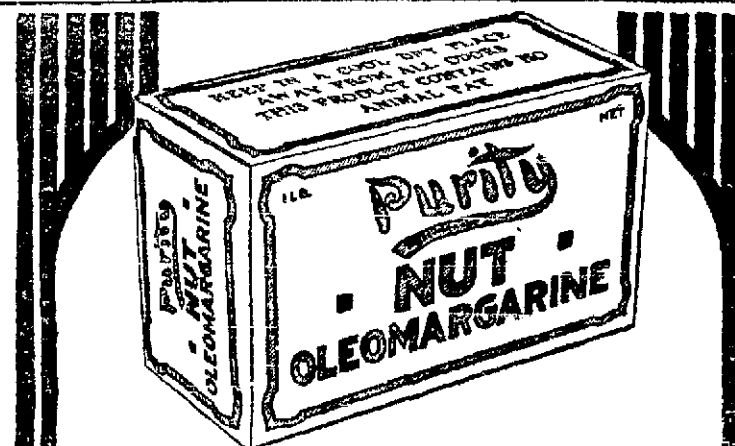

Following the election of officers the representatives named R. W. Huff, and O. G. Snyder of the Chalmers Pump Co. as a committee to assist league officers in drawing up a constitution.

The constitution, officers explained Friday, will be ready for adoption at the next meeting of the league in the Lima Locomotive company club rooms on Tuesday, November 30.

INDIAN WIFE ASKS $250 MONTH ALIMONY

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo.—Naming a white girl of this city as correspondent, Mrs. Odell De Noya has filed suit for divorce from Wesley De Noya, both full-blooded Osage Indians. It is believed to be the first suit of its kind in the history of Colorado courts.

The pair were married in Winfield, Kan., in 1917.

In her suit Mrs. De Noya asks for $250 a month alimony, declaring that her husband's income from valuable oil lands in Oklahoma approximates $1,000 per month.

The domestic difficulties of the Indian couple were first brought to public notice during the past summer when Mrs. De Noya is said to have administered a severe drubbing to the correspondent named when she discovered her "ramping" (the Redskin).

COLLEGE 'CRUSHES' MAKE HAPPY MARRIAGES?

Dr. Binder Thinks Class Rivalry Discourages Matrimony

OPINIONS DIFFER, HOWEVER

Fair Co-Eds and University Men Hold Opposite View

NEW YORK — Far above the throbbing heart of Washington Square, high over the garish green-tiled roofs and gleaming skylights under which games are being exultantly played, sedately stands the four-sided building that houses New York University.

And sober tho its mien may be, within its halls dedicated to the higher learning, wages a lively controversy. Dr. Rudolph Binder began it when he boldly stated in the Washington Square Dealer, the college organ of opinion, that few college men marry co-eds of their own university.

That this professor's claims should not be disputed is too much to expect. The college "crush" is too vital an institution, at least to its transient addicts, to be lightly dismissed.

Dr. Binder says, "University love affairs are usually of short duration because the girl and the man meet too frequently in the classrooms. The routine course of every day sessions seems to put a damper on romantic feeling. The man fears to be excelled in his academic work, and the girl, too, feels herself humbled if she fails."

Extremely young people, whose ideas about romantic love are very immature, often pass thru such a period. The feeling is based upon some purely external feature—good looks, cleverness, repartee. I remember a young woman in one of my classes who told me that she cared for a certain university man because he parted his hair so nicely. "Romantic love is eight hundred years old. It originated during the times of chivalry and reached its highest perfection in Dante's love for Beatrice. It is an intense, mutual admiration for the personality, differing from the platonic love or friendship in that its ultimate object is marriage."

"When romance love exists, both the man and woman will remain single if the desired marriage is thwarted. Spiritually, each will be the other and could contemplate no other union. From such a love comes the ideal marriage."

According to Miss Margaret Hermes, member of the senior class and of the Sigma Kappa Pi sorority, and, most important of all, fiancée of a "N. Y. U." man, Dr. Binder is most sadly mistaken in his ideas.

"You may tell him for me," protests Miss Hermes, "that I think he is quite wrong. I think young men and women who meet in college are apt to be very well suited to each other. They are getting the same preparation for life and they have a community of interests which ought to make their marriage happy."

"I know many cases of marriages of girls and men who met in college and they have turned out very well. I don't mind telling you that I myself am engaged to a man in the university, but I won't tell his name. I didn't meet him in a class, but outside the university. We meet here, tho, and I don't think that the fact of seeing a person often or knowing his or her abilities too well makes for disillusion or means that a couple will not eventually marry."

But all students of N. Y. U. are not of the same mind. Dr. Burton Warren, president of the Students' Day Body, agrees with Dr. Binder. In fact, is probably one of his staunchest supporters. Observe the reason:

VIEW OF MEN STUDENTS

"The professor is right," laughs Mr. Warren. "There is too great a chance that two students develop too much alike and that sort of thing is opposed to all the ideas of romance. They grow too much along the same lines. Both from observation and from personal experience I have found out that these college affairs do not work out satisfactorily."

"It's got a girl in his home town," whispered William C. Johnson, president of the senior class.

and Warren admitted the charge.

There is a chance that a girl might know more than her future husband and that also spoils love," continued Warren. "On the other hand a girl might not want a man who excelled her in classes."

"Another point," broke in his friend Johnson, "is that most fellows going to college are not serious about such things. They think more of having a good time. They are not too careful. For example men try to see how many girls they can get on their lists, and with each new girl the memory of her predecessor filters out of their minds immediately. They take a new girl to every dance they attend and want to have good lookers only."

"Well, there are exceptions to every rule," grinned Warren, who makes mysterious week-end trips to his home town, Marlborough-Hudson, according to his friends.

"Few fellows keep steady company with one girl while in college," stoutly declared William Johnson, while his companion looked at him much as an early Christian martyr might look at a heretic.

"Most fellows in college turn over their frat pins to girls," continued the speaker, and that is supposed to mean an engagement; at least it puts them under the classification of engaged couples."

WHERE CHOICE IS WIDE

"I'll tell you one thing," said the head of the day body, "about the college hero type. I mean the fellow who has made a great hit in football, basketball and baseball. He is more of a target for feminine wiles and therefore would have a hard time being true to anyone he was really in love with. And a good-looking college girl has so much choice among men that she would have to be very much in love to pin herself down to one man. Warren here, goes home every week to his small-town girl he is engaged, you know. She meets him at the station with a brass band. And Warren admits the fact."

Since the college weekly paper stated the discussion Ralph M. Hamilton, its editor, was prevailed upon to give an opinion. He agreed to a great extent with Miss Hermes. "I am no expert in romance," he smiled, "and may not be qualified to speak on the subject. But I don't see why a marriage originating from a college courtship shouldn't be the very best sort."

"I have observed many that turned out happily among young people whose acquaintance dates back to class days."

"Marriage, I believe, should be based on common interest. People studying the same things are apt to have the same thoughts and ambitions, and, what is more important, people with good educations are apt to have good common sense."

When You Buy Clothes Do You Pay Extra For Credit?

We are not going to boast about our store, we would have you to come and see it for yourself. What we do want you to know is this: It is our business to sell on generous weekly or monthly credit terms.

Therefore please understand that when you come to the Chicago Credit House to purchase stylish clothes you are entitled to credit. Don't think that you are asking for a favor, the shoe is on the other foot. You are doing us a favor.

Another thing worth your knowing is this, Cash or credit, our prices are just the same. That means that we do not charge extra for the accommodation of credit. It means that the person who pays spot cash pays the same prices as the person who buys on our generous terms. How many stores can say the same?

How many people who will read this are right now paying extra, and a great deal extra, for the privilege of paying for their clothes in convenient payments?

OF COURSE YOU DO; MOST EVERYBODY DOES

Believe in signs?

Most folks do.

Don't be so sure you don't.

(Oh, well, we'll prove it then.)

Consider the traffic cop.

He waves his arms and you obey 'em.

Or, you go to jail. He blows his whistle or wiggles his hand and the wiggle counts as much as the whistle.

That's sign language.

And there's the usher at the theatre.

He raises three fingers and it doesn't take a hip reader to know he has "three down in front" for you and your wife and baby. That's the language of the digit.

You stop a street car with a wave of your hand and you're angry if the motorman doesn't heed. What's that? Sure, that's the gentle language of the right hand and the left hand.

These are just the common ones in dozens of industries sign language plays a most important part.

1921 TO BE "HARDING YEAR" IN STYLES OF CLOTHING FOR MEN

WASHINGTON — The new year is to be "Harding Year" in clothing styles for men, members of the Custom Cutters and Designers' Association were told by speakers at a dinner Thursday night.

P. J. Foley, of Washington, an officer of the association, said that President-elect Harding wears conservative suits, leaning to blues and dark grays, and that is what all well dressed men will wear in 1921.

"There will be no frills in clothes next year," Mr. Foley said, "and conservatism will be the rule. It is to be Harding Year in styles."

NATIONS' SUPPLY OF COAL AMPLE

Bright Prospects for Fuel Shown In Reports

WASHINGTON — (By United Press) — As reserve stocks pile up and mining continues in various sections of the United States, prospects of plenty of coal to run thru the winter were bright, according to reports received by the United Press.

Except in isolated instances, and in some cases where there has been a shortage of coal cars, the fuel outlook is encouraging.

In the Pennsylvania bituminous mines, the output was far in excess of the demand and even great enough to overcome what might have been a hindrance in other years—a threatened shortage of gas. Coal supply on some railroads has reached 100 percent.

Fred C. Honnald, Chicago, one of the largest dealers in the middle west, said there need be no fear of a coal famine this winter. Absence of coal, weather up to date has increased reserve stocks of coal, he said.

With rail and water transportation improving thruout New England industries and private dealers declare there is no indication of a famine in prospect. The present supply of coal is below normal, however.

New York City dealers asserted there was no prospect of a famine. Seventeen extra emergency coal stations have been established thruout the city, however, to take the care of any contingency.

In Buffalo and vicinity, the situation is far from optimistic, according to dealers. Some even say it is acute. In some yards there is no coal available and none in sight, it was said.

If the car supply is maintained there will be no shortage in Ohio, reports from Cleveland, said.

The Palace of Darkened Windows

BY MARY HASTINGS BRADLEY

He had meant but 40 winks but it had been dark when his eyes closed and the opened them to the unreal half-lights of early dawn. The sky was pearl; the sands were fawn-colored; the crest of a low hill to the east shone as if it were living gold, and the next instant it seemed as if a fire were kindled upon it. It was the sun surging up into the heavens, and great waves of color, like a sea of flame, mounted higher and higher with it.

Impulsively Billy bent over the little figure sleeping so soundly at his side, speaking her name gently. And Arlee, waking with a start and a catch of her breath that went to his heart, opened her eyes on a wild splendor of morning that seemed the outer aspect of the radiant joy within her.

They looked and looked while the east flamed like a burning incense, and then the glow softened and faded and dissolved in mystic and marvelous colors, in tender rose and exquisite shell pinks, in amethysts and violets and lily-like, delicate, fair greens. All about them the sands were turning to gold, and the rim of the distant horizon grew clearer and clearer against the brightening blue of the sky, like a great, enticing, lustrous sea lapping on every side the arch of the heavens.

As they looked their hearts stirred and quickened with that incommunicable thrill of the desert, and their eyes turned and sought each other in silence. The gold of the sun was on Arlee's hanging hair and the morning-blue of the sky in her eyes, her face was flushed from sleep and a tiny tendril still clung to the pink cheek on which she had been sleeping. Somehow that inconspicuous smile tugged in Billy a thrill of absurd tenderness and delight. She was so very small and childish sitting there in the Libyan desert with him, looking up at him with such adorable simplicity. In her eyes he seemed to see something of the wonder and the joy in his. It was a moment of magic. It brought a lump into his throat. He wanted to bend over her reverently to lift a strand of that shining hair to his lips, to touch the sandy little hands.

Somehow he managed not to. The moment of longing and of glamor passed.

"It's exactly as if we'd been shipwrecked!" said Arlee, looking about with an air of childish delight. "On a very large island," he smiled back, and felt a furtive pain mingling with his joy. He was just her rescuer to her of course; she accepted him simply as a heavenly dropped deliverer; her thoughts had not been going out to him in those long days as his had gone to her feet and said breakfast. Where was it?

Directions were vague. They had come south on the edge of the desert and the Nile lay somewhere to the east of them, and to the east, therefore lay breakfast and trains and telegraph lines and all the outposts of civilization.

To the east they rode then, straight toward the tinted dawn and as they went they laughed out at each other on their strange mounts like two children on a holiday. Their spirits lifted with the beauty of the morning, and with their strange primitive exhilaration of the desert, that wild joy in vast, lonely reaches, in far horizons and illimitable space. The air intoxicated them, the leaping light and the free winds fired them, and with laughing shouts and challenges they urged their camels forward in a wild race that sent the desert hares scattering to right and left. Like runaways they tore over the level wastes and thru the rolling dunes, and at last, spent and breathless, they pulled back into a walk their excited beasts that squeaked and tossed their tasseled heads.

Their eyes met in a galaxy of the spirit that no words could express. When Arlee spoke she merely said, "I've read the camel had four parents, but mine has forty-four!" and Billy gave back, "And forty-three are sudden death!" and their ringing laughter made a worried little jackal draw back his cautious nose into his rocky lair.

They were in broken ground now, more and more rocky, leading from the low hills ahead of them, and great clumps of grayish mit minah and bright green hyssop dotted the amber of the sands. Here and there the fork-like helga showed its purple blossom, and sometimes a scarlet lotus plant showed its stem from a rock crack. Across their path two great butterflies strayed, as gold and jeweled as the day. High overhead, black against the stainless blue, hung a far hawk.

At last the way entered a narrow defile among the rocky hills, and a sharp curve led them finally out upon the other side, looking down into green fields, as straight and trim as a checker board in their varying tints, and off over the far Nile. Two fertile lands were wide here, and led with broad canals that offered the purpose of their white wines between the fields of grain

Not far ahead, before the desert tangerines they had bought from a group of palms, and near them some mud houses and a pigeon tower.

"Breakfast," said Billy triumphantly, and gaily they rode down on the sleeping village.

Back toward the Libyan hills runs the canal El Souhagieh, and as it curves to the north a reach of sand sweeps down from the higher ground intercepting the succession of green fields. Several jagged rocks have tumbled from the limestone plateaus above and increased the grateful bit of shade which the half dozen picturesque palms do not sufficiently bestow.

Here the runaways breakfasted upon the toast, pigeon, dates and tangerines they had bought from the cautious villagers, and here Billy, his back against a rock, was smoking a meditative cigar over the situation. Beside him tied to a palm, knelt the camels, and before him, nibbling a last tangerine, Arlee was sitting. "We have to rest the beasts a bit." This from Billy, suggestive of a conscience pricking at this holiday delay. "And then?" echoed Arlee cheerfully.

"Then, what in the world am I going to do with you?"

"With me?"

"Yes, it's simple enough, I suppose, getting back to the city—but if you don't want your friends to know—"

The quick shadow in her eyes distressed him. "I don't," she cried sharply. "At first—I might have made a lark out of it—but afterwards . . . No, I don't want to go explaining and explaining forever and ever. Can't I just reappear?"

"You can reappear from Alexandria," he said. "He, himself," his tone changed as he reluctantly brought Kerlessen into the beauty of that morning, "has arranged it very neatly for you. You can just have been camping in the desert—and true enough that is—with those friends of yours whom the Ever-shams don't know. Only your re-appearance has to be managed a bit."

JUST A GIRL

—BY JANE PHELPS—

DR. CLAXTON BEGS AN INVITATION

Mrs. Fagin seemed to be in an unusual state of excitement, but I laid it to the approaching wedding, and her delight that she was to be one of the guests, as well as helping me cook the dinner. I never dreamed she had a secret all her own, although Mary insisted she "had something up her sleeve."

But when I went to work on Thursday morning she said: "Please get home early this afternoon, Miss Zena."

"What for, anything particular?"

"Tom and Mary are coming early too. You are all going to have dinner with me tonight."

"Oh, how nice!" I exclaimed. "But don't try to do too much. I'll help you with the table."

"She's one fine landlady!" Mary declared. "Wasn't it nice for her to ask Tom?"

"Of course she would ask him! She thinks you a very fortunate girl to get so nice a husband."

"How about him being lucky in getting me?"

"Thank you for them kind words, Miss Stewart," Mary returned mockingly, making me a sweeping curtsy.

Mr. Claxton spoke of no shop, asked if Tom had found a larger place. His interest in my friends was so real that I never hesitated to talk of them with him.

"They are to be married Saturday," I told him. He appeared so interested, and asked so many questions, that I told him of their little flat, of the wedding supper we were going to give them, and that I was to live with them.

"That girl is a really fine character," he said. "I have talked with her whenever she served me, and she is of only original, but she is unusually modest and unassuming. So often when uneducated people are successful they have a disagreeable manner. She's pure gold. That man she is to marry is a fortunate fellow."

"Isn't he?" I was delighted at his praise of Mary, for I had learned to love her dearly. "No one appreciates her as I do, but it is because they do not know her as well. I wish you were to be at her wedding supper."

"I wish so too!" he returned with a laugh. "But one can't attend wedding suppers without an invitation, can they?"

He had spoken lightly, yet I thought I detected a real desire to come underneath his careless manner.

"If you would like me to, I'll ask Mary if you may come."

"Please do. I would be delighted if she would allow me to be one of her guests. Shall I dress—if I get an invitation?"

"Goodness no!" We both laughed heartily, and stopped abruptly as the door opened, and Mr. Betts came in. I turned to my desk, but not before I had seen his meaning look at me. Fortunately Mr. Claxton had not observed it.

About an hour afterward we were once more alone in the office, and Mr. Claxton reopened the conversation right where we had left off.

"So I am not to dress?"

"No, wear your business clothes, please. Tom doesn't own a dinner coat, and I am sure his best man hasn't one either."

"What does the bride need? Something for her home, or herself personally? I want to give her a present."

"Oh, how nice!" I would have refused to take anything from him for myself—would have resented any offer. But for Mary, that was different.

"Will you get something for her? I wouldn't have the slightest idea what to buy, and I am sure you find exactly the right thing." He took out his bill folder and gave me five $10 bills.

"I shall be able to buy such wonderful things for her," I exclaimed. "She will be delighted. She thinks a great deal of having you eat at the shop occasionally."

I hurried away from the office, as Mrs. Fagin had requested. What a wonderful evening Mary and Tom would have! A dinner party, and a wedding present from Mr. Claxton. Mary and Tom both should be consulted as to what it should be.

Tomorrow—A Successful Party.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE BRINGS FINES OF WOMEN FOR WEARING HATS IN COURT

CHICAGO — Equal suffrage for women means that they must not wear their hats when in his court room, Justice of the Peace E. P. Ar-ling declared when he fined two women $5 each for contempt of court when they refused to remove their hats. The women paid.

When the justice called the court to order, he said:

"Everybody will please remove their hats."

Mrs. Oscar McCann and Mrs. Frederick Ritter failed to do so. The court hesitated a moment, but the two continued to wear their hats.

"Five dollars and costs for contempt of court," said the justice. "It women can have equal suffrage with men they can also remove their hats in my court room."

DAYTON, OHIO.—"I found Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription an excellent tonic. I had become all run-down, weak and nervous, could not eat or sleep well, and lost in weight. Was tired all the time, with the least bit of exertion I would be all in. I was advised to take the 'Favorite Prescription,' which I did, and I was very well satisfied with the results. My strength soon returned, I could eat and sleep well, the nervousness left me and my health was better in every way."—MRS. ELLEN DRAPER, No. 47 Bolton Street.

TREAT ECZEMA WITH IODINE

SKIN IRRITATIONS VANISH

If people would only have Iodine in the home at all times for a family remedy they would nip in the bud many serious afflictions and always have an an- itheptic and healing remedy for every day accidents and ailments, says a woman who speaks after many years' experience in raising a large family.

"Take Eczema, for instance," she says. "We used to call it St. Anthony's fire when I was young. The red, irritated, swollen skin, the itching and burning are maddening, and Iodine is the remedy."

Physicians are practically unanimous in recommending Iodine. They prefer it in its best form—Lanolinated Iodine—which is soothing, healing and powerful. It never irritates or blisters, and is practically painless. It is quickly absorbed into the tissues and glands, usually giving prompt relief.

Fred Butler, M. Krantz Co. have this accessible Iodine—ointment and ready resuscitant—as it gives unusual satisfaction. Be sure to get Lanolinated Iodine for best results.

EYE STRAIN

That annoying stare you notice in the eyes of your friends indicates the need of glasses. By straining and squinting such people get along fairly well. But eyestrain is harmful. Headache and nervous disorders result—proper glasses correct these troubles.

"DARLING MINE" IS NOTABLE PLAY

It's Only Because 'Twas Last Work of Olive Thomas

WE ARE A MORBID PEOPLE

Vaudeville Devotees Will Like Orpheum Program

(BY ESTHER WAGNER)

"DARLING MINE" is notable only because it is one of the last works of little Olive Thomas. And we are a morbid nation, at that. The first appearance of the film at the Lyric was witnessed by large crowds, all eager to see the dainty little star who is no more.

The picture has to do with a happy little Irish girl, Kitty McCarthy, whose wholesome Irish philosophy has kept her always smiling, she and her grandfather are very poor. When the old gentleman dies, little Kitty embarks on the great ocean to find her Aunt Agnes, who in her last letter, said: "I am growing in darkness." Little Kitty meant to find out all about it.

Arrived at the wharf with her pet goat, she claims the attention of a theatrical magnate, who decides she is just the type for his new play. And she succeeds in finding her Aunt Agnes, a perfect wreck, who speedily takes out of the depths the sake of little Kitty, to whom everyone is good, no matter how bad.

You can imagine the rest of the picture. She takes a hit in the show and also with the magnate's nephew, and after misunderstanding, goes galore, and then married in a tree, giving everyone the impression that they will soon be married and live happily ever after.

It's appearing today at the Lyric.

The Orpheum

YET like the majority of the acts being shown at the Orpheum this week-end, there are two that are especially meritorious, but that's to be expected. The program gives a splendid send-off by Gilbert and Sullivan, in a ering of music, jazz and otherwise. Without a doubt they're one of the best acts on here this season.

Bert and Betty Ross offer a check-room farce which has some good comedy and a dance or two as variety. Nothing exceptional.

The Four Juggling Normans are really entertaining. They have the usual juggling paraphernalia, but their display of handling them is great. Naturally, one of the quartette is a clown.

Low Rice, cork-face comedian, furnishes one of the better acts of the lot, and plays very beautifully one of the clear box variety of violins.

Rose, Armstrong and James, three pretty girls, have an unusual offering and a pleasing one. LaValle and Lane, in "It Happened Reasonably," are good, but the act has been here before, only this time the company has two girls instead of a gentleman and one girl. However, it's the kind of act that you don't mind seeing twice.

This article is intended to supply you with information which, it is hoped, may help you to decide in case of a possible issue of

COMPULSORY VACCINATION

Let it first be understood that the Lima Medical Liberty League does not endorse Vaccination, but on the other hand opposes vaccination, on the belief that inoculation with virus is harmful in any case. And the information below is given entirely that you may know more about the question of medical freedom and personal liberty. You are urged to read and re-read every word and form your own opinion. The Lima Medical Liberty League recognize the right of free people to accept or reject any form of "treatment" at will. And as a society and as individuals, we emphatically resent any movement which would COMPEL any one to submit to ANY FORM of treatment, or inoculation against his will or better judgment. Hence the following:

Do you know that infantile paralysis often follows vaccination? (See report of investigation of 64 cases of illness and death from vaccination, by James A. Loyester, in York state during 1914, and statistics.)

Do you know that investigations of the epidemics of 1907 and 1916 produced strong evidence that they were started from vaccine virus? (See New York Herald for Sept. 28th, 1916.)

Do you know that the United States Government proved that the epidemics of foot and mouth disease, which swept this country in 1902-03, 1908 and 1914, were started from VACCINE VIRUS? (See Bureau of Animal Industry, Circular No. 147, and Farmer's Bulletin No. 686.)

Do you know that hundreds of United States soldiers on the Texas border have suffered from PARATYPHOID fever caused by TYPHOID VACCINATION? (See newspapers and Army reports.)

Do you know that PARATYPHOID was unknown until the British soldiers in India were inoculated with Wright's anti-typhoid serum, and that it occurs ONLY in persons who have been inoculated?

Do you know that the cases of typhoid fever among the Spanish-American war soldiers in 1898 (before the discovery of typhoid vaccine), amounted to 8.8 per cent? (See U. S. Army Reports.)

Do you know that when the 14th Regiment, N. Y. N. G. U. S., arrived at Camp Whittman from the Texas border the cases of PARATYPHOID, together with the healthy, active carriers, amounted to 17 per cent? Double that of 1898. (See New York Health Department Reports.)

Do you know that PARATYPHOID fever is human HOG CHOLERA? (Appleton's Medical Dictionary, Jan. 1916, defines it: Paratyphoid—Resembling typhoid fever or the typhoid bacillus." P. bacillus—An organism belonging to the HOG CHOLERA group, which CAUSES paratyphoid fever.)

Do you know that nearly 70,000 British soldiers (all vaccinated for typhoid immunity) were sent home from Gallipoli Peninsula with TUBERCULOSIS? And as a result compulsory vaccination was abolished. (See reports of speeches in the House of Parliament.)

Do you know that tuberculosis causes more deaths than any other disease except heart troubles? (See U. S. Mortality Statistics.)

Do you know that New York City statistics show that CANCER has increased there fully 225 per cent since 1870? (See Board of Health Reports.)

Do you know that CANCER and TUBERCULOSIS are traced by specialists to blood debasement from VACCINATION? (See writing of Sir Robert Bell, for 43 years cancer specialist in London; and many others.)

Do you know that, contrary to the general belief, the wide use of diphtheria antitoxin has neither lowered the number of cases, nor the deaths? (See report of special inquiry by the New York City Health Department. Published in the New York World for June 12, 1916.)

Do you know that the Flexner serum for cerebro-spinal meningitis was injected into fifteen children in the City Hospital of Cincinnati, Ohio, and that FOURTEEN died within five minutes? (See full report in the Cincinnati Enquirer for March 18th, 1914.)

Do you know that from 1902 to 1908, and very probably to 1914, thousands of school children were vaccinated UNDER COMPELSION with virus containing the germs of FOOT AND MOUTH disease, with a resultant debasement of the blood which may in after years, result in complications of the most serious nature? See Bureau of Animal Industry, Circular No. 147, pp. 24 and 26.)

Do you know that there were NO deaths from smallpox in 1915 in New Jersey, while there were at least THREE deaths of children directly due to vaccination? (See newspaper reports and report of the State Board of Health.)

Do you know that the recurrence of the outbreak of foot and mouth disease in 1918 was due to infected (?) anti-HOG CHOLERA SERUM? (See Report of the Bureau of Animal Industry for Sept. 28th, 1918.)

Do you know that following this discovery the CANADIAN GOVERNMENT passed a law PROHIBITING the use of these serums?

THESE ARE FACTS! CAN YOU DISPROVE THEM, OR DO YOU KNOW ANYONE WHO CAN?

Dr. J. C. Corlies, of Newark, N. J., told several hundred persons, gathered at the City Hall in Passaic, N. J., on the evening of June 2, 1920, as follows: "I have been in laboratories for years and THERE IS NO SUCH THING AS CLEAN VIRUS. The original smallpox germ was not gotten here in America. Eminent physicians say that lymph taken from the bodies in America is not potent enough. They have to go to other countries. The germs injected into your children's arms were taken from the bodies of dead Japanese in Japan. Can any doctor say honestly that you can rely on clean virus?"

In view of the fact that the doctor mentions Japan as the location of the most potent lymph, let us think a moment why this should be when we consider that Japan is a 100 per cent vaccinated country. Every child in Japan is vaccinated before it is 6 months old. It is re-vaccinated at the age of 6 years and again at 14 years. Thereafter vaccination is COMPULSORY whenever ordered by authorities. And yet, according to official figures taken from the Sanitary Bureau of Tokio from 1889 to 1908, 2,000 were in Japan 171,000 cases of smallpox, with 23,990 deaths. If vaccination is a preventive WHAT DOES IT PREVENT?

If vaccination was a preventive, there would be some excuse in making it compulsory but statistics gathered from all parts of the world, and covering a period of many years, does not show vaccination to be a real preventive and that it does not protect against smallpox. Why then should it be compulsory with our children? And why should the school children only be vaccinated? They comprise about one-third of our total population, and certainly even if they were absolutely protected an epidemic could prevail among the other two-thirds of the people.

A Few Quotations From Eminent Men or Other Authorities.

Alfred Wallace, LL. D., F. R. S., said: "Vaccination (is) a delusion—its penal enforcement a crime." Daniel Webster said: "Compulsory vaccination is an outrage and a gross interference with the liberty of the people." "There is not a single disease for which we have an absolute specific," Dr. Wm. A. Brady, Attica, Ind., Helen S. Gray, writing in the Forum for May, 1915, says: "The advocates of Vaccination for smallpox have a number of scape goats that they put the blame on in case of failure"

In conclusion we ask you to read this article a number of times, think it over carefully and then decide whether vaccination is good or bad.

BUCKEYE GRID WARRIORS TO FIGHT FOR BIG TEN TITLE

MANY CHANCES ARE EXPECTED IN BIG LEAGUE CLUBS AS NEW MANAGERS ARE SELECTED AND WAR CLOUDS BLOW OVER DISPUTES

OHIO STATE TO SCRAP SATURDAY HOPING TO SMASH ILLINI

COLUMBUS.—Ohio State university's football eleven, the only undefeated team in the Western Conference so far this season, left last night for Urbana where it will meet the University of Illinois eleven Saturday in a game that may decide definitely the Big Ten championship honors.

Saturday's game will be the most important in the west and promises to be one of the hardest fought gridiron battles of the year. Both teams are considered evenly matched, altho the Buckeyes will enter the fray the favorites.

Twice before in recent years Ohio State and Coach Zuppke's warriors have clashed for championship honors. Ohio State won in 1917, when Chic Harley's toe put over a 7 to 6 victory for Ohio State. Last year, Bob Fletcher booted a field goal in the last eight seconds of play, winning the championship for the Illini, 9 to 7, after his team apparently had lost.

Ohio State will be the undisputed champion of the Big Ten if it wins tomorrow's game. If it loses, the Buckeyes will be tied with Wisconsin and Illinois for first honors. So far, both Illinois and Wisconsin have each suffered one defeat this season, Wisconsin having been defeated by Ohio State and Illinois having been defeated last Saturday by Wisconsin.

Both teams have dangerous men in their backfield. Both Ohio and Illinois are noted for the perfection of their forward pass attack and defense. In addition Illinois has an extremely dangerous field goal kicker in the person of Ralph Fletcher. Last Saturday Fletcher booted three field goals, one from the 40 yard mark and just barely missed another. The week before he defeated Chicago by the margin of a field goal. In the passing game, the "Walquist to Carney" combination has been just as famous through the conference as the "Workman to Workman" or "Workman to Stubeck" plays for the Buckeyes.

BOTH ARE FIT
Both teams will be in splendid physical condition. All the Illinois players came thru the Wisconsin fray without injury. At the Buckeye injured, including Spiers, Trotter and Williamson will enter the game Saturday in excellent shape.

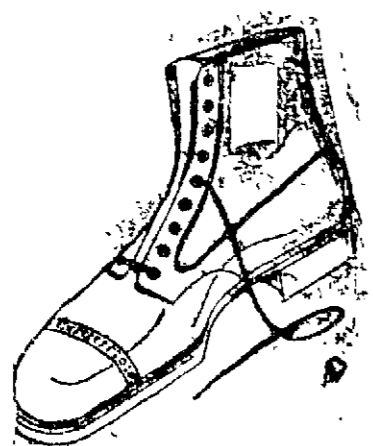

Williamson's presence back in the lineup at full has increased the Buckeyes power tremendously. Williamson, while a smashing line driver is a power on defense and his strong work this way has more than once helped the Buckeyes out of tight places. Due to injuries he has been unable to play much this season and was only used a short time in the Wisconsin game.

As in every conference game this fall the Buckeyes will be outweighted. The Illinois team averages about seven pounds more to the man than the Buckeyes.

The probable line-up follows:
OHIO STATE
Myers L.E.
Huffman (c) T.T.
J. Taylor L.G.
Nemecek C.
Trotter R.G.
Spiers R.T.

RELEASE GEDEON FOR BETTING

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—The unconditional release of Joe Gedeon, second baseman of the St. Louis American League club, was announced today by Business Manager Quinn. Gedeon testified before the Chicago grand jury that he bet on the world series in 1919 after receiving information it had been "fixed." Every club in the majors waived on Gedeon, Quinn said.

BIG INTEREST IN ILLINOIS OHIO GAME

Oil in the football lamp is running low. Just a few more puffs and flicker and the light will go out for 1920.

Most of the brilliant flares of the season have already flared, but a few bright spots shine on Saturday's card which is practically the end of the season.

The brightest rays of the day will shoot westward on the campus at Urbana, where Ohio State and Illinois come together for the second time in successive years to battle for the western conference championship.

HARVARD MEETS YALE
The multi-colored lens will be focused on the Yale Bowl, where Harvard and Yale deploy in a line of skirmishers for their 23rd annual game.

Brilliant as a spectacle with all its traditions behind it, and with a crowd of about 80,000 looking on, the Yale-Bowl game is the Ohio State-Illinois battle the premier event of the day.

Undefeated as she is, Ohio is favored over Illinois, but the most anticipated Buckeye backers have a recollection of last year's battle when the skilled toe of Fletcher booted a goal for Illinois and won the championship.

HARVARD IS FAVORED
Harvard is being figured for a two-touchdown margin over Yale, but many experts are figuring the game closer, not that Yale has a chance on form, but form isn't worth the German mark this year.

Yale will fight as was shown last week, and Harvard is full of confidence. For a real honest-to-gosh battle, the Lehigh-Yale game should be one of the best of the day.

Little Lehigh, which scored Penn State pale last week, is considered the favorite.

Dartmouth scampers after second place in the eastern race, takes on Brown, the worst stumbling block in these parts. Dartmouth is pointing for a 4-2 intercollegiate match with Washington University at Seattle and with Captain Robertson back in the game, should win.

SYRACUSE IS BEST
It's Syracuse's turn for a good game. The New Yorkers, who have been on again and off again on alternating Saturdays, are expected to win from Colgate.

The Penn-Columbia game is Yale's gala attraction. All kinds of honors will be heaped upon the sage who produces the winner of that game or the size of the score. How much of the Notre Dame eleven consists of Gipp, will be shown when the fast Hoosiers meet Northwestern. The star half-back in out of the game with a broken collar bone. Notre Dame should ease thru with a victory, however.

Georgetown and Washington and Lee probably will share the best battle in the south as Tech is idle and Centre has a set up in Virginia Poly.

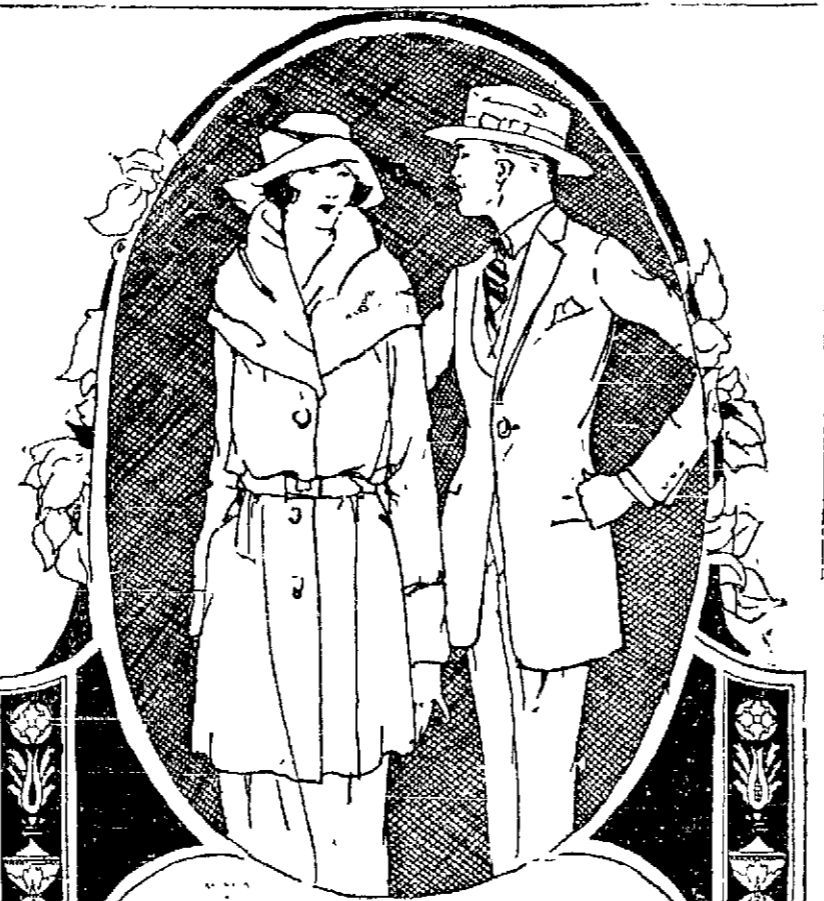

ARKANSAS AFTER CENTRE ELEVEN

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark.—Negotiations for a football game next year between Centre College of Kentucky and the University of Arkansas, have been opened by the manager of the Centre team and if a date mutually agreeable can be decided upon, the game will be on the schedules of the two institutions, university authorities here said today.

If arranged, the game will be played at Memphis, Tenn., probably early in the season.

DOG DERBY WILL BE MARCH 1

THE PAS, Manitoba.—The 1921 Hudson Bay dog derby will be run on March 1 for a purse of $2500. The distance will be 200 miles. The race is open to all comers all over the world and for any number of dogs to a team and any type of sleigh, derby rules to govern.

BIG BOXING CARD FOR SIDNEY

At Sidney Wednesday night, November 24, a boxing show of unusual merit will be staged under auspices of the Sidney Athletic Club.

As the main bout of the evening, Hope Mullen, Muncie, Ind., will stack up against Johnnie Newton, Mansfield, for ten rounds.

Mullen has been fast making a name for himself in pugilistic circles and has a string of victories that could do any real fighter a lot of credit. He will weigh in on the afternoon of the bout at 155 pounds.

In the semi-final and preliminary bouts, two Lima pugilists will be seen in action.

In the semi-final, Red Young of this city is to fight Wilbur Staley, of Galion, in a ten round go. They will weigh in at 145 pounds. Young has been keeping himself pretty well under cover here, but reports from his training quarters indicate that he is rapidly developing into a fighter of which local fans no doubt will be proud.

Lon Baxter fights a six round preliminary with Billy Leonard. Fans here know the kind of a fighter Baxter is, and know his opponent will have to be a real battler to put anything over on the local pug.

The fight starts at 8:30.

MAJOR LEAGUE CLUBS ARE EXPECTED TO SHIFT PLAYERS

BY HENRY L. FARRELL.
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

NEW YORK.—Wholesale swaps, deals and trades may be expected in the big league circuit as soon as three managerless clubs get a boss.

The Detroit Tigers, the St. Louis Browns and the Boston Braves have not announced their new management but it may come now any day since the war is over.

Clarence Rowland is considered Frank Navin's choice as successor to Hugh Jennings. Lee Fohl, former head of the Cleveland Indians, is being talked of to take the job of Jimmy Burke in St. Louis, and Fred Mitchell, deposed leader of the Cubs is considered as sure of George Stallings' place in Boston.

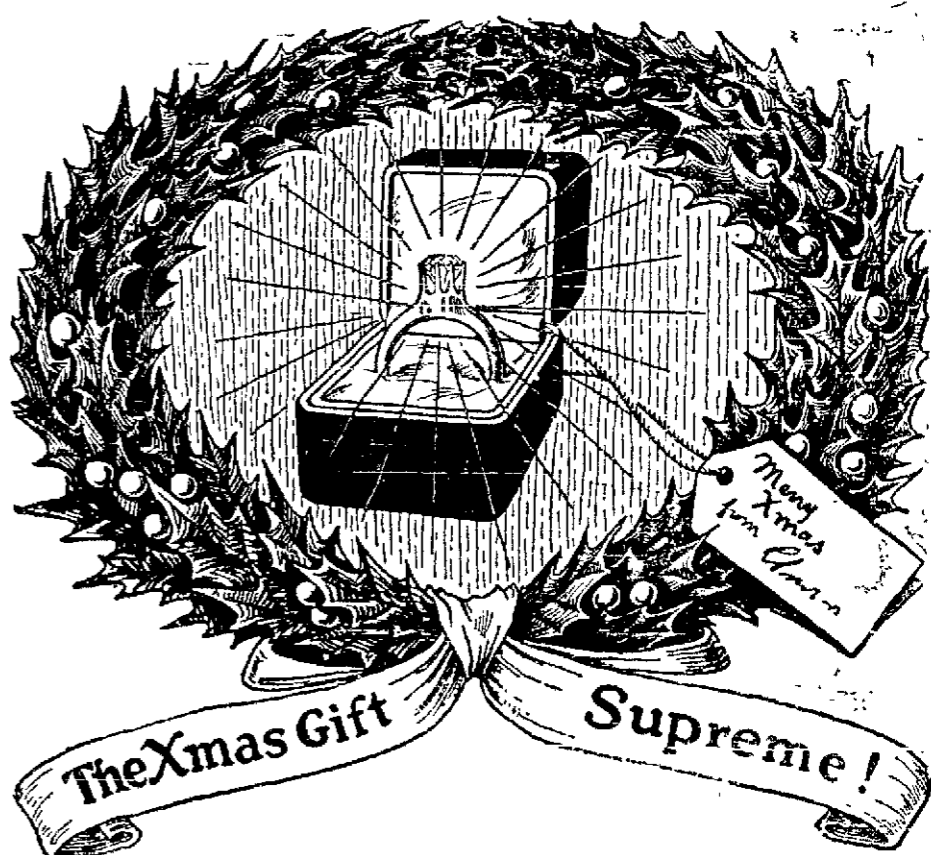

Practically every team in both leagues needs a plug in some weak hole. The Cleveland champions are badly in need of a shortstop and if the rule against spitballers is not rescinded, Speaker will need a couple of pitchers. The Brooklyn National League champions would like to have a third baseman and a spy catcher or two.

Before Manager McGraw left for Cuba, he said he needed a good second baseman, as Larry Doyle is definitely thru and also would like a good centerfielder.

The Yanks are said to have bought Joey Duxan from the Athletics to take Del Pratt's place at second.

Wally Pipp is due for a change in some kind of a trade, and Babe Ruth probably will be tried at first base with Bob Meusel.

Comiskey needs practically a whole new team in Chicago and some trading activity is bound to come as the magnates have agreed to give him help. The Cubs are not well off. Fred Mitchell is supposed to have told Johnny Evers when he turned the club over to him—"Well, Johnny, you may do something if you get a new first baseman, second baseman and third baseman, and two good outfielders. A couple of pitchers would help too."

ARE TO FIGHT FOR TITLE SUNDAY

In a football game at the Murphy park Sunday afternoon, the semi-professional championship of northwestern Ohio will be decided between the Lima Signals and the St. Marys Dreadnaughts.

Pickering, former Ohio State tackle, is playing with the visitors. Rider, former star on the Army eleven and Jones, Van Wert, will also be seen in action when the teams meet.

Manager Ragen, of the Signals, said Friday that his outfit is in the pink of condition and that undoubtedly they will put up a hard fight for the semi-pro honors.

He also said that it is possible that the Signals will tackle the strong Sidney team here Thanksgiving afternoon.

PUT IN BID TO SEE BABE RUTH

NEW YORK — Many southern towns whose baseball fans are anxious to see "Babe" Ruth pointed out home runs have urged the New York Americans to consider them in the selection of a training camp.

The decision is expected to be made at a meeting of club officials next Thursday. Several Texas cities, including Dallas, have sent in requests besides New Orleans, Hot Springs, Ark., and Jacksonville, Fla.

PRINCETON MAY JOURNEY WEST

LOS ANGELES, Cal. — (By United Press.) — Princeton vs California Wednesday looked like the probable program for the east-west football game at Pasadena, California, New Year's Day.

At a meeting of the committee in charge the consensus of opinion was that California was the outstanding western team and that the eastern choice would be between Harvard and Princeton.

Harvard came west a year ago and on that account Princeton seemed to be favored for this year's selection.

The western choice may be altered if the University of Southern California decisively beats the University of Oregon.

Definite selections will be announced Thanksgiving Day.

CENTRE ELEVEN MAY GET TRIP

SAN FRANCISCO — Efforts to bring the Centre College football team to the coast for a post-season game, will be made by Lieutenant Commander, J. J. Kaveney, an athletic officer of the Pacific fleet.

The fleet football team numbers several old-time Annapolis stars. It has cleaned up everything it went after on the coast, but full schedules have prevented meeting the stronger coast college teams.

Kaveney announced he has $5,000 to finance a game with Centre.

JOSE RAPP GOES TO GIANTS

NEW YORK — The New York Giants today announced the purchase of Jose (Goldie) Rapp, star third baseman for the St. Paul club of the American Association. The terms were not made known.

Charles A. Stoneham, president of the club, and John J. McGraw, manager, are to leave tomorrow to spend the holidays in Havana.

B. B. TOURNEY IS NOW PLANNED

AKRON — Northeastern Ohio high schools will stage their annual basketball tournament in Akron, March 4 and 5, according to local high school officials.

Eighteen cities will be represented including Cleveland, Akron, Canton, Youngstown and Massillon. Akron Central won the tournament at Oberlin last season.

O. S. U. Students Ride Trucks

COLUMBUS — Unable to pay the high railroad fare to Urbana, Ill., to see Saturday's football game between Ohio State and Illinois to decide the championship of the Western conference, several score students left Thursday for Urbana in automobile trucks.

Railroad fare to and from Urbana is approximately $40. The trip by truck will cost the students about one-fourth that figure. Approximately seven trucks comprised the train.

Several were equipped with pneumatic tires and several with solid rubber tires. The rates were $12.50 for the round trip in the trucks with pneumatic tires, and $10 for the solid tire trucks.

The trucks will be "bedded down" with straw.

SWAT KING GETS TWO HOMERS

HAVANA — During the series of baseball games played by the New York Giants in this city, Babe Ruth, the champion home-run hitter compiled a batting average of .345, but managed to hit only twice for the circuit. He scored five times, his efforts with the bat resulting in two home runs, three triples, three doubles and two singles. He struck out six times.

Ruth was signed with a local promoter for ten more games in this city. During the contest in which he figured during his first series here capacity crowds gathered at the baseball park, the enthusiasts having but one ambition — to see Babe hit the ball out of the park.

Torricelli, a member of a team which met the Giants last week, collapsed the efforts of Ruth by hitting three homers in one game. As a result of this feat he has been named by local lovers of baseball the "Babe Ruth of Cuba."

CADORE TO WED SATURDAY

NEW YORK — Leon Cadore, Brooklyn National League baseball pitcher, and Miss Helen J. Sweeney of Brooklyn, will be married next Saturday, it was announced Thursday. Cadore was a lieutenant during the war and was decorated for bravery.

NEW YORK — Seaton Seaton, a brown colt owned by William H. Moore, the first long-tailed hackney ever shown here and the first American-bred hackney to win a championship, was judged the best of his class Wednesday at the national horse show. His victory was the first big surprise of the show.

Alleghenian, the thoroughbred of the 19th field artillery, added the Bowman challenge cup to his winnings in the class for officers' chargers.

General Pershing's Dandy won second prize in the draft on broad jump and his Jeff was fourth in the Penn jump.

Mighty Mite, a black mare owned by the Cassilis farms, won the Monthe challenge cup in the hack-horse show. His victory was the first big surprise of the show.

LONE SOCIALIST SEES TASK

Meyer London Realizes His Position in Congress

AGAINST 18TH AMENDMENT

New York Solon Urges Recognition of Soviet Russia

NEW YORK.—"I suppose you expected to find a very happy man gloating over his re-election as the only Socialist in Congress—well, you're wrong. I'm not at all happy; my position in a reactionary Republican Congress is going to be extremely difficult."

Right after this pessimistic greeting the face of Meyer London, Representative-elect from New York's lower East Side, brightened up.

"Of course," he smiled, "I am glad and grateful that my people have again shown their confidence in me and that I shall be able once more to present a phyllophagous life—for that is all that one man can do."

"Nor do I expect to be without allies. There are two types of radicals in Congress; firstly, the Southern Democrat, grumble Jeffersonian, who detects every form of governmental oppression; secondly, the little group of Republican radicals the type that Roosevelt needs to appeal to and that Johnson and Borah appeal to now. I believe that on many issues I will find myself on common ground with these men, so that I shall not always be playing a lone hand."

FOR RUSSIAN SOUVENIR
Are you going to advocate recognition of the Russian Soviet Government?" asked the reporter.

"Yes, absolutely—immediate recognition."

"Why?"

"Because it is a fatal blunder—has been a fatal blunder all along—not to do so. Not only justice, but expediency dictates recognition. If for no other reason, we need Russia as a friend as an imperative commandment of international diplomacy."

"Do you endorse the Lenin Government?"

"That is not the question," was Meyer London's quick retort. "As a matter of fact I do not; nor do I believe it will last. I am quite sure it will be considerably modified along social-democratic lines. But the point—the only point—is that this revolutionary makeshift government (and that's all it is) does at the present represent the great mass of the Russian people, and we must recognize it as such."

"What do you mean by your reference to international diplomacy?"

"Japan," almost snapped Mr. London, "is the only military nation left in the world."

He declined to go further into this subject.

"Do you believe there is an appreciable element in the United States that favors a Soviet regime?"

"No, sir; emphatically no," he shot back. "Why, I am willing to bet you that there are not more than 500 persons in this country who would argue that Sovietism can or should be adopted in the United States."

"How do you read the results of the election?" was the next question.

"As for myself," replied the lone Socialist in the new House of Representatives, "I attribute my election to my success in converting young America in my district to American principles—to deep and true love of America."

"I was elected in 1914 and again in 1916. Then the war, conscription, war hysteria and the handwork of the burglars of the ballot box defeated me in 1918. And now I am back."

REACTION FROM WAR
"The election as a whole is, to my mind, the reaction from the war. I voted against war, and I am not ashamed, but proud of it. There were 160 men in Congress that left as I did. They couldn't afford to vote against war because denunciation of them in the press would have meant their political death. For me such denunciation is good propaganda in my district."

"I held, and I hope I hold now, that we drifted into war because of the lack of an international policy. I said we would be likely to be without such a policy when the war was over. I am now in the position of saving. 'I told you so.'"

"You are not an internationalist?" ventured the interviewer.

Meyer London smiled.

"Internationalism is a very sweet thing," he pointed out. "But people start out with their own country. The concept of nations which I advocate is one that involves the co-operation and the co-existence of peoples without submerging their sovereignty. It is not an indefinite mass called 'humanity.' I am an American first and always. America is the land of promise and democracy, and nobody knows it better than myself."

"FRIENDLY ENEMIES."
"How do you expect to get along with your colleagues in Congress?"

"First rate, just as I always did," replied Mr. London cheerfully. "In the four years I was in the House I always enjoyed the respect of my colleagues; indeed, I can say I received better treatment than many other members. They are all fine, upstanding men. The one trouble with the American Congress, however, is its complete lack of knowledge of European affairs. Its ignorance that led to the war. I don't want to boast of extraordinary knowledge myself, but all the time I was in Washington I guess I went to the theatre or other amusements half a dozen times. I spent my nights in the library and the days in the House. I have a reading knowledge of French and Italian and know Russian and German quite well. Naturally, I can peruse foreign newspapers and thus get a broader view of European affairs."

Reverting to Soviet Russia, Mr. London said that while he considered the Moscow Government a revolutionary makeshift regime and did not unqualifiedly endorse it even for Russia, it was a sane and helpful step toward liberalization. When the Bolsheviks came into power, he said, he received a message from the leaders congratulating him on the part he had taken in the early years of the century in paving the path toward the overthrow of Czarism.

"What do you expect from the Republican Administration?" he was asked.

"It is quite possible," was his answer, "that the Republican policy will be modified to some extent to gain the support of liberalism and radicalism in the United States. I mean radicalism in the sense of healthy progressivism, not in the sense of wild-eyed revolutionary agitation for which it is so often mistaken."

"These things are here, and they have to be reckoned with. They represent the birth of what in Russia is called the intellectual class; men and women who think and study. This class is here, and it is growing, and no administration can afford to ignore it."

OUTLINES HIS PROGRAMME.
"What is your programme?"

"Besides immediate recognition of the Moscow Government it includes some other important things. Here are some:

"I shall demand that we refuse to loan any money or give any support or extend recognition to governments that allow massacres of Jews. I shall demand this not only as a Jew, but as a human being."

"I shall continue my fight for social insurance, insurance against unemployment, old age pensions in industry, and sickness insurance along the lines of the English insurance law."

"I shall demand the study of the social problem. I shall fight tooth and nail for national education."

"I shall demand the repeal of all laws hampering labor and the organization of labor, on the ground that a man who joins a union no more surrenders his individuality than does a man who joins his capital with the capital of others in investments."

"I shall insist upon the liberalization of the amendment clause of the Constitution. In New York it is so difficult to amend the State Constitution; a certain proportion is passed through two legislative sessions and then submitted to the people; thus, within two years the State charter can be amended. I hold that what is good for New York State is good for the whole nation."

AGAINST 18TH AMENDMENT.
I am against the foolish Eighteenth Amendment. I am not a drinking man, but I believe it is dead wrong to take from every man the right to have a glass of beer or wine, just because somebody is unable to control himself in the presence of a bottle of whiskey."

"I shall fight my fights as I have always fought them; by reason, not with venom. I refuse to be a common scold. You can no more attack an institution by vituperation than you can scold the weather."

"What about the Versailles treaty?"

"It's dead—dead—dead—dead."

THANKSGIVING IN LIMA CHURCHES

Special Services in Three Houses of Worship, Thursday

Thanksgiving day will be observed with a special service in Christ church, Episcopal, North and West-sts., next Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock and last just one hour. The service will be one of praise and song, the day marking the first Thanksgiving in the beautiful new church.

Special musical numbers will be given by the choir under the direction of Mr. Forster B. Robinson and with Ernest C. Baird at the pipe organ. They will sing God's "Praise to the Lord," and King's "Reverend." The Rev. Kirk B. O'Connell, pastor of the church, will give one of his characteristic sermons on "The Spirit of Thanksgiving."

Union Thanksgiving services of all Protestant churches will be held this year in two of the city churches, at Market-st. Presbyterian and at Grace Methodist, between the hours of 10 and 11 a. m.

The Rev. Mr. Howard, pastor of the U. B. church will be in charge at Market-st. church and the Rev. D. N. Kelly, pastor of Grace church, will preach.

At Grace church, the Rev. Samuel Huecker, pastor of Market-st. church will preach, and the Rev. Mr. Baker, pastor of the South Side Church of Christ, will be in charge.

The collection taken will go for the Near East relief work among starving people across the sea. Music will be provided by choirs of the churches in which services are held.

MRS. FAST MAKES CLAIM TO FAME AS HUNTRRESS

Mrs. C. C. Fast, 1912 Leland-ave., Friday put in a claim for part of the laurels rested upon the head of Mrs. Inez Sells, Lima huntress.

Mrs. Fast says that she, too, was granted a hunting license, last January. And, what's more, she shouldered a gun and went out into the woods near Bellefontaine and bagged a rabbit. During the squirrel season Mrs. Fast hunted in southern Ohio and killed three of the nimble little animals, she says.

BETTER THAN WHISKEY FOR COLDS AND FLU

New Elixir, Called Aspirinal, Medicated With Latest Scientific Remedies, Used and Endorsed by European and American Army Surgeons to Cut Short a Cold and Prevent Complications.

Every Druggist in U. S. Instructed to Refund Price While You Wait at Counter If Relief Does Not Come Within Two Minutes.

Delightful Taste, Immediate Relief, Quick Warm-Up.

The sensation of the year in the drug trade is Aspirinal, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories; tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the common people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are now supplied with the wonderful new elixir, so all you have to do to get rid of that cold is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspirinal and tell him to serve you two teaspoonfuls with four teaspoonfuls of water in a glass. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel your cold fading away like a dream within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

When your cold or cough is relieved, take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and babies. For Aspirinal is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable, cold and cough remedy for infants and children.—Adv.

DAUGHTER SAYS RUPERT LOST $300 IN RAISIN JACK SPREE LAST NIGHT

Lima man and proprietor of a barber shop on S. Main-st., fell a victim of raisin jack, police say, and was in a serious condition behind bars at city prison Friday morning.

A daughter of Rupert called at police headquarters during the morning and visited her father as he lay on a cot in his cell, suffering, police say, from the after effects of drinking liquor.

According to the daughter, Rupert had approximately $300 on his person Thursday night. When arrested by New in Lewis "Snowball" Dickson's place on S. Main-st., he was without funds.

With him was arrested Tom Cashman, 26, and Dickson, a negro.

They were to be arraigned in criminal court Friday afternoon on a charge of drunk and disorderly conduct, before Judge Jackson. A morning trial was postponed on account of Rupert's condition.

ASPIRIN

Name "Bayer" on Genuine

It's criminal to take a chance on any substitute for "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin." Unless you see the name "Bayer" on package or on tablets you are not getting genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians for twenty-one years and proved safe by millions. Take Aspirin only as told in the Bayer package for Colds, Headache, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Earache, Toothache, Lumbago and for Pain. Handy tin boxes of twelve tablets cost few cents. Druggists also sell larger packages. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid.—Adv.

Last Night's Audience Mystified By Phonograph

Drawn From Actual Photograph

Hears Famous Baritone

compare voice with RE-CREATION Edison's new phonograph—could not tell the two apart

GLEN ELLISON, the famous Scotch baritone, gave an extraordinary recital last night at Memorial Hall.

Mr. Ellison walked on to the stage and stood beside a stately cabinet. He began to sing "When the Bonnie Heather is Blooming." The audience immediately yielded to the spell of his beautiful voice. Then suddenly there was a stir—a subdued murmur of surprise—and a perplexed rubbing of eyes. Mr. Ellison's voice continued to fill the auditorium with undiminished sweetness—your ears were proof of that—but his lips had become absolutely silent—your eyes told you that.

What wizardry was this? It was the test of direct comparison with the living artist, which Thomas, A. Edison has developed to demonstrate that the Official Laboratory Model of his new phonograph will sing any song exactly as it was sung by the artist, and that his Re-Creation of a singer's voice as it comes from his wonderful new phonograph, positively cannot be distinguished from the singer's actual voice, when both are heard in direct comparison.

Mr. Ellison made repeated comparison—always with the same result. It was truly wonderful. This master achievement of the great wizard Edison, marks a new epoch in music.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph With a Soul"

You can have a duplicate of the wonderful instrument used at Memorial Hall and, if you act quickly, we can furnish you with an engraved certificate (signed by Mr. Ellison) certifying that it is an exact duplicate in tonal quality of the instrument he used in his amazing comparison; also that it will sustain precisely the same test.

We have 25 of the famous Official Laboratory Models and Mr. Ellison has certified every one of them. Come to our store at once and ask to see and hear the Official Laboratory Models on which Mr. Ellison has issued his Certificates of Authenticity.
